FLORIDAN MUST DIE IN CHAIR

Franklin P. McCall
Condemned in Death
of Cash Child

MIAMI, Fla., June 16—(UP)—Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson today sentenced Franklin Pierce McCall to die in the electric chair for kidnaping five-year-old Jimmy Cash.

The sentence represented one of the most rapid applications of Florida justice since Giuseppe Zangara was sentenced to death for assassinating Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago. The death sentence was pronounced just 19 days after the little blue-eyed boy was kidnaped from his crib and accidentally smothered with handkerchiefs knotted over his face.

It was mandatory on the white-haired jurist to pronounce the death penalty. McCall had pleaded guilty to kidnaping for ransom and Judge Atkinson, who heard the state's evidence and McCall's supporting story, said state law required him to order the 21-year-old youth executed.

WARDEN STARTS DRIVE AGAINST UNLICENSED DOGS

Harry Riffe, Pickaway county's dog warden opened his campaign on unlicensed dogs Thursday.

Mr. Riffe said persons having unlicensed dogs will be prosecuted. The warden recently warned Pickaway countyans that he would conduct a drive against unlicensed dogs. Persons who have a dog and do not expect to purchase a license for the animal should notify the warden.

State Plans Flasher At Rts. 22-104

Crossing Light To Be In Use 24 Hours Each Day; Work Begins Monday

A flasher type light will be installed at the intersection of Routes 22 and 104, west of Circleville. Installation work will start Monday.

This announcement was made Thursday by the state highway department. The flasher will have amber caution lights on Route 22 and red lights, for a temporary halt before crossing the intersection, on Route 104.

The light will flash approximately 60 times a minute and be in operation 24 hours daily. Two steel poles for the light installation arrived Wednesday afternoon.

The light is being stalled in an effort to reduce the number of auto collisions at the intersection. Motorists have failed to heed traffic signs.

Three of Five Traffic Deaths Listed in May

Three of the five deaths in auto accidents so far this year in Pickaway county occurred during May. Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell disclosed Thursday in checking records of the department.

During May there were 27 persons injured. Only two of the accidents occurred at intersections.

During all of 1937 seven persons were fatally injured in accidents in Pickaway county. Nineteen were killed in 1936 and 16 in 1935.

.38 GUN HUNTED AFTER GIRL DIES IN SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD, June 16—(UP)—The .38 caliber firearm responsible for the death of eight-year-old Mary Elizabeth Sanders was the object of a police search concentrated on Springfield's north side today.

The child died 25 minutes after a mystery bullet struck her at 9:10 p. m. last night while she was catching lightning bugs on a neighbor's front lawn.

Because Mary Elizabeth had her arms stretched upward, the bullet struck her in the left armpit and lodged in her heart, according to Coroner Austin Richards.

"I didn't hear a shot, but I did hear something go 'zing,'" Shirley Summer, 7, the child's playmate, said.

They were playing in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Summers, Shirley's parents.

Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvard Sanders, slumped to the ground and died in the office of Dr. R. G. Boehme. She would have been in the third grade of her school next fall.

Four neighbor boys who have .22 caliber rifles were taken into custody last night but were released after it was found that a .38 caliber bullet, probably from a revolver, had killed the girl.

Mary Elizabeth is survived by a sister, Bethany June.

SEAMAN'S MISSING TEETH FOUND IN CAPTURED FISH

BOSTON, June 16—(UP)—The New Bedford fishing dragger Venture II docked at the fish pier today and Captain Fred Surrette vouched for this story:

Sunday, while dragging for groundfish 50 miles off Cape Cod, Seaman William Mayo, 50, sneezed and lost his $30 set of false teeth overboard.

Tuesday, while the crew was cleaning fish taken in a net, the teeth were found in the belly of a 10-pound cod.

Please—Let Us Live Here!

FACING 200 homeowners with a plea for tolerance, a young Chinese couple, native-born citizens of Portland, Ore., have moved into a modest house in Chicago's northwest side for a trial to prove that they are "good neighbors." When told by an alderman, spokesman for a crowd outside, that they were unwanted, the young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Fung, stepped to the porch and Mrs. Fung addressed the assemblage thus: "My husband and I are Christians as yourselves. Both of us are university graduates. Both our fathers were Baptist ministers. We promise to live a quiet life among you. If you find us annoying we will move away." The Fungs, who have two children, are pictured outside their home.

SCHLEICH, AFTER COMMISSIONER'S JOB, WITHDRAWS BY COUNCILMEN

Leonard G. Schleich of Monroe township is confined to his bed with a heart ailment and on the advice of his physician has withdrawn from the county commissioner race.

Mr. Schleich had filed his petition as a Democratic candidate, subject to the primary for Aug. 9, for the commissioner job. Others in the race for the Democratic nomination are George Eitel, Circleville township; William Beavers, Scioto township; Earl Hoffman, Washington township; and Wayne Brown, Madison township. C. E. Wright, Republican, Harrison township, seeks re-election.

This is the second time Mr. Schleich has withdrawn from a political race. On a previous occasion he entered the commissioner campaign and was forced to withdraw.

REBEL SOLDIERS CLOSE FRONTIER, TRAP REFUGEES

HENDAYE, June 16—(UP)—Nationalist forces closed every pass into France today along the Pyrenees from the Bay of Biscay to Seo De Urgel isolating a few hundred rear guards of the Loyalist 43rd "lost" division above the snow lines.

The Loyalists, commanded by an American-trained Col. Antonio Beltran, crossed the frontier at Gela pass, near Tarbes. Stragglers caught behind the Nationalist lines must make their way into France across treacherous glaciers.

The resistance of the Loyalists, who held out for two months after being cut off from bases in Catalonia, was broken by bombardment of the upper Cinca valley which practically leveled the town of Bielsa.

A Loyalist officer said that a new type of 67 MM. gun had been used. The artillery piece had remarkable accuracy and Bielsa was nothing but ruins as the result of direct hits.

MULBERRIES KILL GIRL, 3

LONDON, June 16—(UP)—Gladys Moore, 3, died in convulsions shortly after she ate mulberries.

SPEED OF POLICE CAR CONSIDERED BY COUNCILMEN

Councilmen have had considerable experience with speeding regulations in Circleville but Wednesday night they tried to work out a problem of how to get more speed out of a car owned by the city.

They were informed that the city's police cruiser has a top speed of about 60 to 65 miles an hour and no more. The car has been checked by a mechanic and still it refuses to hit a higher rate.

The speed problem arose when Safety Director Karl Herrmann asked an additional appropriation of $200 for maintenance and equipment expenses of the department.

Mr. Herrmann explained that the car needed some repairs and his fund contained only $30. Although an appropriation of $500 was made the first of the year there was considerable expense carried over from the last administration, including the $125 shatter proof windshield, council men were told.

Council men made numerous suggestions as to how to step up the speed but most of their ideas had already been tried. Some believed that if the car was due for considerable expense it would be wise to trade it off on another.

The appropriation ordinance was passed under suspension of rules.

NEW NAZI CURBS PLACED ON JEWS DOING BUSINESS

BERLIN, June 16—(UP)—The official Gazette published a decree today aimed at new, drastic curbs on Jews in German business life. The decree, part of an intensified anti-Jewish campaign, ordered a special register made of all Jewish firms and empowered the minister of economics to prescribe that all Jewish shops shall be identified as such.

The decree stipulates that concerns shall be considered Jewish if the owners are Jews or the concerns are controlled by Jews. Limited companies will be considered Jewish if one member of the board is Jewish or if Jews own more than one-fourth of the capital or a majority of the common shares.

Firms owned or controlled by foreign Jews may be registered with the authorities only by special permission of the minister of economics.

TWO ASSEMBLY UNITS TO VOTE AID MEASURES

Conference Committee May Decide How State Will Support Needy

MATCHING ELIMINATED
Tax Extension Through 1940 In One Action

COLUMBUS, June 16—(UP)—The first bill on the senate relief program, permitting local governments to issue notes and borrow up to 90 per cent of anticipated proceeds in 1938 and 1939 from beer and liquor permit fees, was passed, 28 to 1, today.

COLUMBUS, June 16—(UP)—House and senate planned to vote today on conflicting relief plans that if passed in the respective branches of the legislature may create a temporary deadlock but also the basis for final enactment of a compromise program for the rest of 1938.

Leaders admitted that neither program was assured of passage but hoped to put them through with expectation that differences in key bills can be reconciled, perhaps in conference committee. It was conceded that neither program as it stands can be agreed on by both houses.

Observers anticipated that a plan whereby the state would raise between $6,000,000 and $10,000,000 without local matching or local tax enabling legislation might be the final result within the next week or so.

Matching In One Bill
Matching and enabling legislation have been eliminated in the (Continued on Page Twelve.)

U. S. GUARDSMEN HUNT FOUR LOST IN LAKE REGION

GRAND MARAIS, Mich., June 16—(UP)—Coast guardsmen were searching today for the bodies of two men, believed to have been drowned in Lake Superior after they had jumped from the gasoline tug, "Judith C" which caught fire during a gale yesterday.

Coast guard officials said the fire started when the tug was 30 miles North of Grand Marais. During the excitement the men leaped into the water. They were identified only by their surnames, Lafever and Chambers.

Guardsmen reported that the fire, believed to have started from engine backfire, had been extinguished after a three-hour fight.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., June 16—(UP)—Coast guard boats began a search today for an 18-foot sail boat, reported adrift on Lake Michigan with two unidentified youths aboard.

Abraham Wessell of the Grand Haven station said the boat has been missing since Tuesday when the youths left Sheboygan, Wis., to return to Muskegon.

Boats from Ludington, Manistee and Frankfort, Mich., were ordered to aid in the search.

HOSLER ESTATE $22,998

Mrs. Alice Hosler, N. Scioto street, left an estate valued at $22,998.19, according to an inventory and appraisal filed in Probate court Thursday. Real estate is listed at $21,300. Appraisers were C. D. Brunner, William D. Radcliff and W. P. Creed.

G-MAN CHIEF'S BACK HURT IN MINOR AUTO ACCIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, suffered a slight back injury today received in a minor automobile accident.

The accident occurred in downtown Washington shortly after Hoover had arrived from New York by plane. The car in which he was riding was bumped by a truck. He declined medical treatment.

YOUNG FARMER KILLED IN FALL OFF HAY TRUCK

George M. Chamberlain, 22, Dies Of Broken Neck; Funeral Friday

Verdict of accidental death was returned Thursday by Coroner C. E. Bowers in the case of George M. Chamberlain, 22-year-old farmer of near Mt. Sterling. He was killed in a fall from a truck.

Mr. Chamberlain fell from a moving truck while he was hauling hay on the farm of Mrs. Mary Keller. Dr. Bowers said a part of the farm is in Pickaway county and a part in Madison county. Mr. Chamberlain suffered a broken neck.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the residence with burial in the Mt. Sterling cemetery in charge of E. T. Snyder.

Mr. Chamberlain is survived by his father, Walter; his mother, Ann Chamberlain Dawes, and four sisters, Mrs. May Harris, Mrs. Margaret Harder, Mrs. Lucille Liff and Miss Bernice Chamberlain.

TOKYO'S PLANES HELP SOLDIERS CAUGHT IN FLOOD

SHANGHAI, June 16—(UP)—Japanese aviators dropped food and tools from their airplanes today to Japanese army units trapped in the spreading Yellow river floods.

Now the floods affect the country North as well as the Yellow river area. Pouring rains continued all along the river basin. The Japanese were fighting for their lives, all thought of their war against the Chinese forgotten. They charged that Chinese guerrillas, familiar with the country, were breaking dykes at new points as well as harassing isolated Japanese units.

The airplane service was inaugurated today both to feed trapped Japanese units and to drop tools with which they and the Chinese farmers along the river valley could make what was admittedly almost a hopeless effort to repair the dykes.

Hundred of square miles of country were flooded, uncounted thousands of Chinese and Japanese had been drowned or were isolated on occasional high points. The main hope for life among the trapped Japanese lay in the airplanes which dropped food and tools in gunny sacks.

WEALTHY FARM OWNER MISSING SINCE JUNE 8

XENIA, June 16—(UP)—The disappearance of Elza B. Harness, 75, wealthy farm owner, was investigated today by Sheriff George Henkle. Harness has been missing since June 8.

Harness was seen entering an automobile, the sheriff was told. He was wearing work clothes and was believed to have $400 with him. Relatives here and in other parts of the state have seen nothing of him since.

Sheriff Henkle said Harness is moderately well-to-do, unmarried, and the owner of a large farm in Silvercreek township. He does not farm himself.

Fights For Life

EDWARD HOLLE, 24-year-old prospective father, is pictured in Newark, N. J., court, where he is on trial for the fire-chain murder of 23-year-old Sophie Kujat, whose body was washed up by the Passaic River 16 days after her death. It was weighted with sixty pounds of tire-chain and trussed with sash cord.

PENSIONS VOTED FOR LUTHERAN CHURCH PASTORS

BUCYRUS, June 16—(UP)—A resolution endorsing a pension plan for ministers was adopted today by delegates to the Ohio district convention of the American Lutheran church here.

The plan, presented by Rev. William H. Lehman of Fremont last night, provide that the congregation voluntarily must contribute four percent of a pastor's pension on his retirement. In the event a congregation furnishes a parsonage, the pastor must contribute 15 percent of his salary.

The proposal will be submitted to the 12 other church districts and, if approved, will be presented to the national conference at Sandusky in October.

District officers will be chosen tonight.

News Flashes

TRUCK LAW UPHELD

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 16—(UP)—A three-judge federal court ruled today that the Missouri law imposing fees on interstate truck lines was constitutional and did not conflict with the federal motor carrier act which gives the Interstate Commerce commission jurisdiction over the interstate motor lines.

EDGAR WITH F. D. R.

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—President Roosevelt scheduled Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as his White House luncheon guest today. Subject of the discussion was not revealed by the White House.

TRADING ADVANCES

NEW YORK, June 16—(UP)—Prices moved irregularly during early trading today and then firmed. At noon many stocks registered small net advances. Trading continued quiet. Some activity was noted in McIntyre poccupine which was unchanged at 44 1/4; Childs company 5 1/4 up 1, and International Nickel at 42 1/2 off 1/2.

HUNTER FINED $10, JAILED ON TRESPASSING CHARGE

Charles Justice, 38, of near Fox, was fined $10 and costs and committed to the county jail when he failed to pay for hunting without permission of the landowner.

The charge was filed by Thomas Wright, Jackson township, who charged Justice hunted on his land on May 19. The case was heard by Acting Mayor John C. Goeller.

NEW SUBSIDIES AIDING FARMERS TO BE ALLOWED

Recovery-Relief And Big On Calendar
Deficiency Measure

BANKHEAD NAMES TRAIN

President Ready To Leave For Wedding

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—Congress stam-peded on the adjournment trail today, pausing only long enough to vote new subsidies to farmers before disposing of the major legislation on its calendar.

In a final gesture of defiance to President Roosevelt after abandoning sine die adjournment until today, the house last bowled over his veto a $48,000,000-a-year gift from the treasury to farm debtors. The senate will act today.

Coincidentally, conferees representing the house and senate defied the President of another farm-subsidy issue by agreeing to appropriate $212,000,000 to provide price guarantees to growers of rice, tobacco, cotton, corn and wheat without providing the money for same.

Billion for Defenses

This $260,000,000 award to agriculture made against Mr. Roosevelt's protests is small change, however compared with the $1,000,000,000—approximately—which this session of congress provided on White House recommendations to finance crop control and otherwise aid agriculture. National defense appropriations topped $1,000,000,000 for the session of congress now adjourning.

But recovery and relief appropriations of $4,003,000,000 since Jan. 3 put all other individual grants of funds in the pin money class.

So with a record of approximately $12,000,000,000 of appropriations in five and one-half months this session probably will adjourn today. New Deal leaders hoped to hear the gavel tap by mid-afternoon.

Awaiting final disposition as the house and senate met were:

1. The $3,753,000,000 recovery-relief appropriation.

2. A $293,615,000 deficiency bill including a $5,000,000 appropriation for two battleships in the Roosevelt emergency naval program.

Speaker William B. Bankhead announced that he planned to leave Washington on a 4:45 p. m. train. Other leaders were equally hopeful of quick action. Mr. Roosevelt's valet is ready to pack his bags for the journey to Nahant, Mass., where the Roosevelt family Saturday will witness the wedding of the youngest son, John, to Anne Lindsay Clark, of Boston. The $48,000,000 windfall to farm debtors must have senate approval before it is harvested. It would cost that sum to extend for one year—July 1, 1939 to July 1, 1940—the reduction previously voted by congress in interest rates charged borrowers from federal banks and federal land bank commissioners. Mr. Roosevelt vetoed the original bill in 1937 and congress promptly sailed it over his veto.

The extension was voted again this session and a veto message was delivered to the house yesterday.

HERE'S STANDING

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—The status of major legislation today:

Bills awaiting the President's signature—merchant marine, civil aviation regulation, food and drug, rivers and harbors, wages and hours, civil service for postmasters, flood control, and railroad unemployment insurance.

Conference reports pending—recovery-relief in the senate. Final deficiency appropriation in the senate and house.

Bills awaiting floor action—senate: none; house: none.

FARMERS PARE DEBTS ON LAND TO 17-YEAR LOW

Mortgages Believed Now To Total Less Than Seven Billions

SALE PRICES WATCHED

Insurance Company Holding Shows Reduction

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—The farm-mortgage debt has reached the lowest figure in 17 years, according to the Department of Agriculture bureau of agricultural economics.

The bureau said that the amount probably has declined considerably from the last available figure of $7,254,821,000 on Jan. 1, 1937, and now may be below $7,000,000,000.

Figures compiled by the bureau show that the farm-mortgage debt declined nearly $2,000,000,000 between the high point in 1930 and 1937. Most of the decline resulted from foreclosures between 1930 and 1935.

Increased income since 1935 has enabled many farmers to reduce their mortgages through cash payments, the bureau said. Some reduction was made also by downward adjustments by public and private lending agencies.

Debts Exceeded Sale Price

The bureau, discussing the marked changes in the capital structure of agriculture since 1929, said that land values were written sharply down as farm income decreased during the depression; that many farms were sold for less than the mortgage debt.

But during the last five years, the bureau said, a large part of this loss has been recovered through rising farm values. And while farm values increased, farm-mortgage debt declined.

"Changes in the amount of farm-mortgage debt during 1935 and 1936 reflect largely two opposite forces: (1) liquidation of debt primarily through distress transfers; (2) increases in debt through greater activity in the volume of land transfers," the bureau said.

The number of foreclosures, or "distress transfers," has declined steadily in the past four years. The bureau estimated there were 18 foreclosures per 1,000 farmers in the year ended March 1, 1937 compared with 20 in 1936, 21 in 1935 and 28 in 1934.

Private Lending Declines

The importance of federal agencies in farm lending has increased steadily since 1930. Life insurance companies, banks, state and private lending agencies have decreased their holdings.

On Jan. 1, 1937, the Federal Land Bank and the Land Bank Commissioners held 40 per cent of all outstanding farm-mortgage debt, compared with 38 per cent a year earlier, 33 per cent in 1935 and 13 per cent in 1930.

Life insurance companies at the start of 1937 held only 13 per cent of all farm mortgage debt, compared with 23 per cent in 1930. Joint-stock land banks held less than 2 per cent of the total mortgage debt on Jan. 1, 1937, as compared with 7 per cent in 1930.

S. C. Allison to Retire As School's Custodian

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

The local school board was in session Tuesday evening and transacted routine business which included the paying of bills. S. C. Allison, who has had a long time service as janitor, engineer and caretaker at and about the school building and grounds, has reached the retirement age and another to supply this vacancy will be selected to begin his duties about September 1. No one but a licensed engineer with ability to pass a test required by law can fill this position. Just anyone who can shovel coal and sweep a floor, and nothing more, does not fit into this place.

July 4 Awaited

Not since Ashville's first Big Day, July 4, several years ago, has there been more interest taken in it, than is now being shown. Each member of all the several committees charged with separate duties are "up on their toes much alike" to see that nothing is left undone that will contribute to the biggest and best celebration we have yet had. Fred Hines, with his Community Band, has a new feature never before shown in the "whole world," not even Hitler trasted with 7 per cent of the much larger total in 1930.

Other lending groups—individuals, banks official state and county agencies, mortgage companies and miscellaneous lenders—held 45 per cent of the total in 1937, compared with 57 per cent in 1930.

would ever think of such a thing. More entertainment for our visitors will be furnished than ever before. Rides for the little and big kiddies are among the many pleasures for all. And numerous stunts of many kinds are in the making by a special committee which have this feature in charge.

Beaver Reunion

The Beaver reunion will be held here in Community Park next Sunday. This event includes a wide circle of relatives and friends gathering for a social day of it. If we and the "old boat" can navigate even reasonably well on this set day, we're going out there and look 'em over. We are quite sure that Al Oyer and his boss (wife) will be among those there. The "boss," as we recall, was among the reliable hand-type setters on the Ashville Enterprise "some years ago". And the Al Oyer (her husband) we mention, is among the 17 who at different times have played the part of editor and publisher of the Ashville newspapers. And especially do we want the Oyers to once more read that "Cat poetry", a fresh edition of which we have just received from its author Rev. C. D. Besch.

Doctor Pleased

Met in my "around town visit" yesterday, my young friend Doc Hoffman of So. Bloomfield. Says he's getting along fine and is more and more in the notion each day of being the best surgeon there is. Says he's been taking a "few of 'em apart" for practice and likes it. Seems that a lot of our boys go in for being doctor-surgeons. Woodrow Barch just graduated the other day in medical school and is now an intern at White Cross hospital. Bill Jennings is an intern at a Cincinnati hospital. Elliott Peters is "the big shot" surgeon at Columbus, carves 'em from head to toe and makes 'em like it. And Bill Cloud, everybody calls him Doc yet in high school, is headed toward being the best doctor there is and nothing less than this will be good enough. And among the dozens of boys we have contacted, haven't found one who wants to be a preacher. Say they are all fed up on "old chicken" and don't want any more. We've found several lawyers among them.

Illinois Relatives

Having traveled many miles, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pontius and family arrived to visit Mr. Pontius' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pontius of Ashville. The Pontius family, who were accompanied by Mr. Pontius' sister, Laure Pontius, have not seen their brother and family for thirty-three years.

On Sunday, June 12, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pontius opened their home for friends and relatives, and most delightfully entertained them to Sunday dinner to mark the happy occasion together. The dinner, which was enjoyed by all, was most abundant and delicious, and the remainder of the after-

AT THE CLIFTONA

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy ring the bell in their new musical comedy film, "Swiss Miss," which opens at the Cliftona Theatre Friday for a two day run.

The comedy pair were never funnier than in their guise of mouse-trap salesmen who believe that because of the large Swiss output of cheese the Alpine regions will be a fertile field for their endeavors. Their demonstrations with devices of Rube Goldberg pattern constitute many minutes of unadulterated hilarity. Also provoking loud guffaws is the scene in which they are compelled to work out their board bill, washing dishes, sweeping and scrubbing floors, each resulting in greater disaster and more comic despair to the unwilling workers.

AT THE GRAND

Once upon a time, Hollywood painted its motion picture sets on canvas. Now, film producers blast their sets out of mountain sides with pneumatic guns.

During the making of Universal's "State Police," which comes Saturday to the Grand Theatre, producer Trem Carr and director, John Rawlins had an entire section of new highway cut through mountains near Chatsworth, California, for action scenes of the film in which John King and Constance Moore play the leads.

The action on the highway occupies the screen only a few minutes, but it cost Universal plenty to produce this authentic background.

To every son and daughter in town:

LOOK AT ME! Each June my kids sit up nights figuring out a Father's Day gift for me that's different. I've gotten a mandarin robe, a Turkish water-pipe and Indian clubs.

What I really want is an Arrow Shirt!

I say Arrow because its collar sits better, its buttons never come off. It's tailored to your shape. And it's Sanforized—guaranteed not to shrink!

Be kind to your Dad—get him an Arrow shirt, or two or three.

PICKAWAY ABLE TO PAY RELIEF FOR 24 MONTHS

State Auditor Discloses 64 Districts Do Not Need Immediate Funds

CUYAHOGA HAS CRISIS

Fairfield's Treasury Shows Big Balance

Pickaway county is financially able to carry on its present relief program for two years without any additional funds, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson declared Thursday when he released a statistical report covering the relief situation in Ohio.

Twenty-four Ohio counties will need relief funds ranging from $4,000 to $5,300,000 for the remainder of 1938. Sixty-four rural counties, of which Pickaway is one, have enough money to finance their needs from a minimum of six months to a maximum of five years.

Of the 24 counties in need the report showed that Cuyahoga would require $5,300,000 for the rest of the year. At the other extreme was Fairfield county, shown to have sufficient funds to meet its needs at the present rate for five years.

Counties with balances, the figures indicating how many months they can carry their relief loads with present resources, included:

Allen 12; Ashland 12; Ashtabula 10; Athens 6; Auglaize 16; Belmont 8; Butler 9; Carroll 10; Champaign 17; Clinton 16; Coshocton 15; Crawford 10; Darke 32; Defiance 12; Delaware 10; Erie 5; Fairfield 60; Fayette 5; Fulton 12; Gallia 15; Geauga 9; Greene 11; Guernsey 10; Hancock 40; Hardin 17; Harrison 11; Henry 6; Highlands 18; Hocking 22; Holmes 33; Huron 8; Jackson 9; Jefferson 7; Knox 12; Lake 12; Logan 10; Lorain 6; Madison 8; Medina 14; Meigs 8; Mercer 16; Miami 8; Monroe 16; Morgan 8; Morrow 24; Muskingum 6; Noble 25; Perry 15; Pike 18; Preble 35; Putnam 13; Ross 25; Sandusky 10; Seneca 10; Shelby 15; Union 35; Van Wert 18; Vinton 15; Warren 18; Washington 23; Wayne 36; Williams 15; Wyandot 20.

Of the counties already without resources or not expected to last more than six months Cuyahoga had the greatest need for funds, $5,300,000, according to the report. Of the 24 in need Paulding county was shown to require only $4,000 more for the rest of the year, the minimum in that classification.

Here's The Railroads' Program

IN the interest of straight-thinking, the American railroads have prepared a concise and clear-cut program for a public transportation policy. We present here the major points:

Equality of Treatment
The railroads ask, first of all, for equality of treatment and opportunity—equality in all matters of regulation, taxation and subsidy; and a chance to compete on equal terms with other forms of transportation.

Restrictive and Expensive Laws
The increasing tendency, both in Congress and in State Legislatures, to harass and weaken the railroads by passing laws which increase expenses with no corresponding public benefit should be stopped.

Reductions in Operating Expense
The immediate situation of the railroad industry is more critical than it was in 1932. Traffic is less, rates are lower, wages, taxes and prices are higher. Costs within the control of the railroads have been cut to the bone and now they have been compelled to announce their intention of making a reduction in wages, which, however, will leave the average rate of pay higher than it was in 1932.

Revision of Rate-Making Practices
The railroads ask the authority to price their product to meet competition—a privilege exercised by other forms of business. They ask passage of the Pettengill Bill to amend the long-and-short-haul restriction on railroads. No such restriction applies to any other form of transportation. They ask revision by Congress of the present rule of rate-making, which has been construed by the Interstate Commerce Commission as authorizing it to substitute its judgment for that of the railroads in determining the effect of proposed rates on revenue.
The power of the Interstate Commerce Commission over such intrastate rates as affect interstate commerce should be enlarged.

Regulation of Water Transportation
It is suggested that Congress enact the Wheeler-Ramspeck Bill, providing for the regulation of water carriers by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as it now regulates the railroads and public highway carriers.

Repeal of Land Grant Rates
The railroads today are contributing more than $7,000,000 a year to the Government in reduced rates on Government traffic, in return for land "granted" more than half a century ago. Congress is now considering repeal of the statute requiring these reduced rates.

Federal Barge Line
The railroads believe that Congress, by appropriate legislation, should discontinue operation of the Federal Barge Line. This was the clear intent of Congress at the time the Barge Line Act was passed.

Loans to Railroads
Broader authority for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make loans to railroads upon the prospect of future earnings would be an aid to recovery and increased employment.

Consolidations and Coordinations
Many of the large railroad systems today are the result of consolidations. Coordination of rail services and facilities is in effect to a large extent. Sound business policy requires that these processes be continued by negotiation.

Grade Crossings and Bridges
The separation of grade crossings is of much greater interest to highway travelers than to the railroads. The improvement of navigable streams for the use of water-borne traffic or for flood control, from which the railroads derive no benefit, often involves heavy expense to them for the rebuilding and maintenance of tracks and bridges. Existing laws should be amended to provide that all such costs should be met by the public.

Highway and Waterway Operations
Subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the railroads should have the same rights as other citizens to engage in the operation of motor vehicles on the highways and vessels on inland waterways.

tiation rather than by some prescribed national plan.

Labor Legislation
The Railway Labor Act should be amended to improve present procedure in cases involving contracts between the railroads and their employees, and to give the railroads, as well as employees, the right to seek court review of awards and orders.

Fair Taxation
The railroads should be exempted from the undistributed profits tax and from additional State taxes of the sort which are a burden on interstate commerce.

Tolls for Commercial Use of Inland Waterways
Tolls should be charged for commercial use of inland navigable waters, other than harbors and the Great Lakes—based on a fair return to the Government for money spent for improvement and maintenance.

When you look at this list, you can summarize the basic difficulty of the railroads in as simple a statement as this: They are controlled and restricted on a fifty-year-old theory that the railroads are a monopoly—yet they are called upon today to compete for business against every other form of transportation. What railroad men want is simply equality and the same freedom of judgment and initiative in running their business enjoyed by every successful business in America.

MOROS DECLARE FOR U. S. RULE IN PHILIPPINES

Mohammedans Fear Being Minority People If Islands Go Free

INDEPENDENCE UNWANTED

Pershing's Translator One Of Bitter Foes

JOLO, Philippine Islands, June 16—(UP)—Nearly half a million Malayan Mohammedans are watching with quite but vital interest while the Philippine independence problem wavers between Washington and Manila.

Score of Moro leaders on Mindanao Island and the Sulu archipelago are stoutly opposed to independence. They talk little, think much and wonder if their American conquerors have forgotten them in the discussion of the question.

They respect the United States, fear Japan and wish to avoid any danger of becoming Far Eastern "minority people" through coming under the full jurisdiction of a Christian Filipino government.

For the present, at least, the 300,000 people of Sulu are not a minority problem. They live at peace with the Christians, pay their taxes and get public works appropriations from Manila. They have their first Moro governor, young Ombra Ambibanga, appointed by President Manuel L. Quezon in recognition of demands that Christian officials be replaced by Moros wherever possible in Sulu.

Mindanao People Stubborn

The Mohammedans of Mindanao are more stubborn. They have refused to join their Sulu cousins in sending young men into the Philippine army. Most of their mountain fortifications have been destroyed by Christian soldiers, but defiance continues.

Sulu opposition to Philippine independence is quiet but none the less strong.

One of the most powerful opponents is Aroles Tulawi, who served as translator for the American forces during John J. Pershing's campaign in Sulu in 1913. He became the first Moro school teacher and helped frame the Philippine constitution in 1933.

"Pershing and Gen. Leonard Wood promised us protection when the Moros surrendered to the Americans," he reasons.

"Now we feel we need that protection more than ever before. We are afraid the Japanese will move in immediately if the Americans move out. But we are certain Japan will never molest us if the American flag remains here."

Tulawi frequently has been a leader of Moro opposition to the proposals of the Christian Filipino leaders. During the framing of the constitution he threatened to run "amok" if polygamy was banned. The proposal was eliminated in deference to Mohammedan beliefs.

No Revolt Threats Yet

The Moros have made no threat of revolt against Manila if the Philippines are set free. They have watched developments quietly, many of them convinced the independence pleas of Christian Filipino leaders have been for purely political reasons. They believe Paul V. McNutt, U. S. high commissioner, who has proposed a "realistic re-examination" of the question, will result in indefinite postponement of independence.

The United States asked the opinion of the Sultan of Sulu, Muhammad Jaimal Abirin II, strongest religious leader in the archipelago and leader of the Moro forces defeated by Pershing.

Without speaking, the aged sultan glanced inquiringly at the advisers assembled beside him, Datu Danile, Hadji Panglima Hayudini, Hadji Talib and Tuan Sheikh Abbas. Princess Dayang-Dayang Inda-

Ten thousand gallons of oil were spread on five Circleville streets Wednesday.

The streets were those repaired by the service department during the Spring. Oil was spread on Clinton, Ohio, Corwin, and Pleasant streets and Elm avenue.

BALANCES SHOWN

The city's funds as of June 15, reported in council Wednesday evening, showed the following balances: general $5,364.58, library $9,647.89, auto street repair $3,329.59, disposal plant $51,205.12, gasoline tax $1,749.93, and hospital $601.02, a total of $71,898.13.

taas, daughter of the Sultan, interpreted the reply after the advisers had consulted together gravely in the Moro language.

"We believe the people of the Philippines are like a sucking infant," she translated. "America is our mother and without her we may die."

Council Asks More U. S. Cash for Sewage Plant

City council passed legislation Wednesday night seeking to obtain additional federal aid for the municipal disposal plant.

A resolution was adopted asking P.W.A. approval of an increase in the costs of the treatment works and authorizing the engineer, Floyd G. Browne, of Marion, to compile estimates to be sent to P. W. A.

The city is seeking an additional grant of $16,349.51 from the government. The plant costs are not increased but the share originally paid by the government was based on estimates that were later increased.

P. W. A. allotted the city $61,363 as its share of the project. This allocation of 45 percent of the plant cost was based on the city share of $75,000, or 55 percent. The original bond issue passed by the voters was for that amount. This made a total for the plant of $136,363.

The contract for the plant was awarded for $138,169.15 and various items were eliminated to bring the cost down to that figure.

After the original bond issue, the city issued $15,000 worth of additional bonds and the Container

Logan Elm, Other Historic Spots in South Central Ohio To Be Honored

HOCKING PARKS LISTED

10 Stations Broadcast State Program

Circleville and the surrounding historic countryside will be featured in the first of next week's "Let's Explore Ohio" radio programs.

The broadcast, to be heard over ten Ohio stations, will be a dramatization of the story of Logan's Elm, the most famous tree in Ohio and one of the most famous in the entire United States. In addition to Logan's Elm, nearby Hocking County Park, with its 4,000 scenic acres, visited last year by 350,000 people, will be described.

Designed to stimulate interest in Ohio's history and scenic spots, the "Let's Explore Ohio" series is being presented twice weekly over a state-wide network by The Standard Oil Co. of Ohio.

The thrilling 15-minute dramatization of the story of Logan's Elm will be heard over the following stations:

PLANE SERVICE TO MAYA RUINS TO START SOON

WASHINGTON (UP)—Travelers soon will be able to fly to the northern Guatemalan ruins of Uaxactun, oldest center of Maya civilization—partly because of the civilized taste for chewing gum.

The region has been accessible only to packtrain because of the dense jungle of Sapote trees. These trees, however, indirectly will lead to air service to the heart of the jungle according to the National Geographic Society.

The trees produce chicle, from which American chewing gum is made. To facilitate export of the chicle, natives have cleared an airfield—and invited planes to replace mules as transporters of the basic ingredient of chewing gum. Coming of the airplanes will mark a new chapter in Uaxactun's history. Originally occupied about 65 A. D., the town became a center to which Mayas from outlying agricultural regions flocked for games, religious ceremonies and trade.

Uaxactun (pronounced Washock-tune) still is a center of the jungle life. It not only attracts the native chicle-gatherers and woodcutters but also various archeological expeditions such as that of the Carnegie Institute of Washington.

VAST ART SHOW FOR FAIR LIKELY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16—(UP)—The greatest collection of modern and ancient art ever assembled in America will be exhibited here during the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, Dr. Walter Heil, director of the De Young art museum, said on his return from a six-month tour of Europe's art capitals.

Although his task of obtaining art objects from Europe has been complicated by a major political upset in Austria, Dr. Heil said he was still hopeful of obtaining Velasquez' world famous portrait of the Infanta Margarita, now in a museum at Vienna.

Dr. Heil said that while in Europe, he discussed the possibilities of moving ancient Greek statues from Athens for the first time in history; of exhibiting here Rembrandt's "Prodigal Son," which at one time reportedly was offered to Andrew Mellon for $4,000,000, and of transporting priceless Michael Angelos to San Francisco.

Climate Called Ideal
Damage to valuable art treasures due to climatic changes is one of the greatest deterrents in arranging exhibitions, according to Dr. Heil. Fear of theft is a secondary consideration, he said.

"It is because of that reason," he said, "that I am hopeful of arranging an exhibition unrivaled either in the United States or Europe. The moistures in the air here makes San Francisco's climate the best in the world as far as paintings and statuary are concerned."

Dr. Heil said that art treasures submitted to the exhibition would be guarded carefully while in transit and during their showing here. "Danger of theft is really slight," he said, "because of the virtual impossibility of disposing of the paintings of statuary. However, there is the ever-present danger of vandalism, and for that reason we will have guards as well as such scientific devices as the photo-electric 'eye' at the exhibit."

Visited Many Museums

Dr. Heil visited museums in London, Paris, Leningrad, Berlin, Brussels, Vienna and Paris. Dr. Heil was particularly hopeful of obtaining many works of art from the Soviet government. "Rembrandt's 'Prodigal Son' is in the museum at Leningrad," he said. "And in addition Leningrad has the world's finest collection of 18th century and modern French art collected by the old Roman nobility."

The art collector said he was now conducting negotiations with Italy for showing of many of its great paintings and sculptures. He declined to say what Italian art works he was seeking for the exhibit, but admitted that the paintings of Michael Angelo were among those sought.

ELEVEN IN A BOAT

THE Summer picnic tragedies have begun. An unusually distressing one is the drowning of three children and a man in the Potomac River near Washington, while parents and friends looked on.

First mistake: There were eleven children and two adults in that boat—too many, as the result showed.

Second mistake: The children were not controlled as all children in boats should be.

The craft was driven by an outboard motor. As it turned, according to the news report, perhaps too quickly, the children stood up and rushed forward. The grown-up running the motor shouted a warning, and the other adult, jumping to herd the children back to their seats, lost his balance and fell overboard. Then the children all rushed to one side and the craft overturned.

The first thing to be done when any children are taken into a small boat—and it's a pretty good rule for adults, too—is to pledge them to sit down and stay sitting down, for the duration of the cruise.

ONE FOR ALL, ALL FOR ONE

THE meaning of "collective security" is made clear by Pierre Cott, former French air minister, speaking at the national conference of reserve officers.

"They say France should defend herself only if attacked. To say that not one French soldier should expose his life for Czechoslovakia means not one English soldier should shed his blood if France were attacked. Collective security is a condition of French security."

Collective security was one of the basic ideas of the League of Nations. It was assumed that all the "good" nations would unite against any "bad" aggressor nation. Foreknowledge of this alliance of righteousness against wrong-doing would prevent aggression. Failing that, collective action would check it quickly.

The thing seemed simple and practical. It has not worked out so. Even the nations that frankly condemn an aggressor are not willing to apply either military force or economic pressure. Although the sanctions against Italy were severe enough to create discomfort and resentment, they were not complete enough to stop the Italian conquest of Ethiopia. In fact, they were applied only partially and half-heartedly.

The world wants peace, but there are many selfish interests at work now which block operation of the collective principles stated in the League Covenant.

'ROUND CANADA . . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Fishing in the North woods becomes a distinct pleasure only after the first week. Six or seven days must pass before someone in the party fails to arouse the camp at daylight and insist on angling company. This day being Sunday and a week after our arrival on the Goulais river, everyone slept until nine o'clock. That's my idea of a vacation.

Breakfast at 9:30, an hour of loafing and then onto the river about noon. In two hours Earl Smith landed two and lost three. Clarence Wolf lost three and Mayor Bill took in three and lost one. The scrivener put three in the boat, using a fly rod. Used a fly rod on wall-eyes for the first time yesterday and experienced an entirely new fishing thrill. The rod, weighing only four ounces, proved sufficient to the occasion. In some three hours time it landed a seven pounder, two five pounders and a four pounder. The ones captured today averaged about 4 pounds. Earl also took his fish today on his flyrod. Mayor Bill continues using a block and tackle and Clarence uses a casting rod, but is leaning more and more toward the lighter tackle.

The live box today contains some thirty fine great fish and Earl right now is cooking a pair for our dinner. If this place were not so far from the home ville most of the friends of the fishing party would have received big fish before now. Already we have given away a dozen that we feared would die. With all those fish in the live box this party has eaten fish only once, and those two were bought from the Indians by Joe Burns before the river cleared and we were able to catch our own.

Wonder what has happened to Jim Stout. When we left he said that he might come up on the ninth, and we have been looking for him since that day. We have the fish spotted, too, and that is something more than the other vacationers up here can say. Today we passed five boats on the river and in the channels and there was not a fish in one of them.

No more fishing for us this day, although the sun still rides high. It will be dinner soon and then probably a game of cards and a phonograph concert. Radios just do not work well up here. Bill sits back and discusses another moose seen standing in the water today. The animals, like cows, take to water at certain times of day to escape flies. Another moose was seen two days ago, and a fine big deer, a doe mind you, took a bath practically in front of us yesterday. Came down to the stream, waded in, swam around for a while, returned to the bank, stretched and wandered away into the woods. And these really are woods up here.

Today we are shipping home a big box of fish. Probably they will be spoiled by the time they arrive, but we are shipping them just the same, hoping 'or the best. I'm taking them into town and across to the American side to an express office. Must stop at the Sault too and buy a pair of trousers, for the two pair I brought with me have developed embarrassing ventilation. Town and the postoffice are thirty miles away. We have received no mail since arrival here, although I ordered the paper sent daily. We go into town only when necessity demands and as a result the diary has been neglected.

CHAPTER 34

THE STUFF of life is made not of houses and clothing and such visible things, but of the subtler intangibles which cannot be purchased or had all at once and which develop around us day by day.

Ellen Dale was giving thought to these matters. Buried in her great chair covered by the woolly ram's hide, which she had already come to love, she had books stacked near her. Many were of lighter reading, but some that Bill had selected for her were of classic import. She held now a volume of Emerson, and one trenchant sentence struck her with its power:

"Sooner or later that which is now life shall be poetry, and every fair and manly trait shall add a richer strain to the song."

She didn't quite understand it, but it was sweet even so. "Every fair and manly trait shall add a richer strain," she thought of the character traits in those she had gathered around her. Besides Bill Baron there now was a total of 53 women, children and men. The Dale-Durango ranch was a big one, was coming to have importance in the southwest, she realized. Most of the servants and cowboys had been hired by Bill, but Ellen herself had picked the cook and other help for her home. She did not have too much help, and saw to it that all were kept busy.

Her delight now was with the "fair and manly traits" shown in most of them, however humble and poor. It was, too, a source of pleasure to know that her original intuitive judgment concerning Bill himself had been borne out. He was a man's man, and a woman's; a young western gentleman, not too young and not too perfect.

Sometimes she cried a little, in private, because he did not make love to her. She felt that he wanted to; and yet she never could be quite sure when he was serious and when he was teasing. In any event, though, she was developing in him and in some of the others the priceless elements of friendship, the stuff of life. She hoped they were finding at least some similar good in her.

"Better get your riding duds on, cowgirl," Bill commanded her early Thursday morning. "You're going with me to the Gap. We got to take in a thousand head of steers."

"Okay, Doctor."

She had picked up the nickname given him by the hands. Bill himself had never commented on the service he had rendered the Mexican woman. The husband had christened his son for Bill—William Daniel Baron de Anza was the new mite's name—and he had received a $10 gold piece from his godfather plus a layette from Ellen and the Casa Hermosa servant staff.

Doctor Bill told her she'd better stay near Buckshot Brown as they approached the herd of cattle, and fall in behind. The cattle were being brought from the old John Slaughter acreage farther south, where they had been assembled at Bill's order from half a dozen sources including both old and new Mexico.

They could be heard long before they could be seen—"EAWR-R-R-R-R" in a low guttural chorus never ending, emanating from a veritable thunderhead of dust on the horizon. Their approach made a magnificent spectacle; somehow it awed Ellen, and it awed her more to realize that they belonged to her. For no good reason as she sat in her saddle there on a hill-slope, she had fleeting memories of days in the New York 10-cent store, before she had won the contest that launched her on the way to fame. The contrast in situations was profound.

Bill took charge of the herd, directing his cowboys to keep it moving, on through the Gap thence onto the DD range. The Gap was a dip or saddle in a mountain ridge which afforded a short cut in that direction. It was reached by going up a steep incline. When the cattle headed through they began to pour over all at once.

"It's like a cascade of water!" cried Ellen, viewing it from a distance. And so it was. A living, bawling, seething mass of animals flowing over and down.

Every few seconds some great bull would top the rise there, pause a moment with his head high, below a challenge to the world and plunge on. Ellen saw the picture they created, especially in partial silhouette that way. She heard the shrill, happy yip-yip-yipping of the cowboy urging the animals on, with the drumming taccato of hooves for a thematic background. Except on a theater screen she had never seen anything like it. The music of it enthralled her, that and the living beauty. Mountains and cliffs themselves were theatrical backdrops, and the actors were supplying their own wild orchestration.

"Watch 'em, watch 'em! Ain't they dandies?" Old Buckshot Brown sensed the grandeur of the spectacle too, but lacked the words and the training to express precisely what he felt.

And yet—right there was the reason why a man will be a rancher; and a woman. The reason why intelligent folk will work and suffer all manner of hardships to eke out a bare living in the open west. The inherent grandeur of ranching does something to a person, gives a spiritual life unlike that to be had in any other profession.

"Look at them spread and open out into a great moving fan!" Ellen murmured, half to herself. She moved her horse up a few yards. The cows were drifting onto the flat range again, well below the old man and girl. "Oh, there's a calf!"

A few baby critters had tagged along inevitably. With a herd like that some mother cows are bound to get in, and a few are bound invariably to calve en route, it seems.

Buckshot explained it to her, along with dozens of other details. The old fellow welcomed the role of tutor, and she profited immeasurably because of it. Through his teachings, and her natural appreciation of beauty in whatever form, Ellen saw not the dirt and sweat and noise of the herd's arrival, but the epic nature of it.

"I honestly believe a cowboy has the most interesting life in the world," she ventured, after a bit.

"Yessum, it's a fact he does," agreed old Buckshot. "He don't know it sometimes, but he's a shore-nough king. Dida ever hear me recite that cowboy poem, ma'am? Th' feller as made it up is dead and forgot, years ago, I reckon. But it's a right fair poem, ahump—"

The old-timer coughed and struck an oratorical pose there in his saddle, which would have been comical if it hadn't been in dead earnest—"listen and I'll say it, ma'am:

*"Th' bawl of a steer to a cowboy's ear
Is music of sweetest strain;
And th' yelpin' notes of th' gray coyotes
To him are a glad refrain.
"Fer a kingly crown in a noisy town,
His saddle he wouldn't change;
No life so free as th' life we see
Way out on th' open range.
"Th' rapid beat of his bronco's feet
On th' sod as he speeds along,
Keeps living time to th' ringing rhyme
Of his rollicking cowboy song.
"His eyes are—his eyes—lemme see now—
Oh yeamp—
His eyes are bright and his heart as light
As th' smoke of his cigaret;
There's never a care for his soul to bear,
No trouble to make him fret.
"Th' winds may howl and th' thunder growl
Or th' breezes may softly moan;
But a cowboy's life is a royal life,
His saddle his kingly throne."

Sleeping Habits of Twins Are Studied

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

AS THE READERS of this column know, I always have been very much interested in twins. They present a perfect natural biological experiment. They both start out with the same heredity and at the same moment, and the amount of influence which heredity has on our lives is easily measured by studying them.

This point of view appears to impress biologists a great deal during the present century and studies of twins are increasing. I find from Germany the report on a research on the sleeping habits of twins.

Is it possible to observe hereditary traits manifested while consciousness is more or less obliterated by sleep? A study of this problem might shed light on certain specially conditioned functions of the mind manifested during consciousness.

There is a camp for twins on the Baltic coast, and here 28 pairs of female twins, ranging from 6 to 14 years were observed. The doctors who made the study distinguished two kinds of sleep—cortical sleep and axial sleep. In cortical sleep the consciousness is completely lost and dreams are absent, but the muscles of the body perform regular movements of turning over and getting into different positions. In axial sleep the muscles are quiet but the mind is only partially unconscious, resulting in moments of wakefulness and semi-wakefulness and in dreams. Every body must have experienced both types.

In individuals, however, one type or the other is liable to predominate.

In children sleep-walking, gnashing the teeth and bed-wetting are

Hearts Hidden in Tea Cups Reveal News

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Westenhaver of Circleville township announced the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Mae, to Mr. Russell Skaggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Skaggs of 121 W. Water street, Wednesday evening when they entertained several of their friend at a lawn party.

Beds of roses and shasta daisies edged the lawn which was brilliantly lighted for the affair. Games of various kinds were played during the evening with prizes won by Miss Dorothy Updyke, Gladden Troutman, Galen Mowery, and Lee Cook.

The secret was revealed when the dessert course was served at small tables late in the evening. The bright colored table covers were matched by the other party appointments, the engagement announcement being found on tiny hearts concealed in the nut cups. Miss Westenhaver has chosen Thursday September 15, for the date of her wedding.

The guests included Mrs. Frank Winfough and daughter, Esther, and Mac Shipley of Orient; the Misses Roma Melvin, Annabelle Barch, Marvina Riffel, Julia Dresbach, Mary Katherine Wolf, Mildred Wolf, Dorothy Glick, Dorothy Wolf, Dorothy Updyke, Elise Updyke, Rosemary Metzger, Anna Marie Fellmeth, Irene Skaggs, Marjorie and Eleanor Westenhaver, Stanley Melvin, Galen Mowery, Willard Dudson, Gladden Troutman, Russell Ward, George Skaggs, Russell Skaggs, Mrs. Henry Bartholomew and son, Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stevens and son, Nelson Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Drum and daughter, Mary Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Shasteen, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ankrom, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Skaggs of the Circleville community.

Engagement Announced
The engagement and coming wedding of Miss Anne Woodrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Woodrough of Omaha, Neb., to Mr. John Gilbert Hathaway of Chillicothe is announced by the bride-elect's parents.

Mr. Hathaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hathaway of Chillicothe, is a brother of Mrs. Don W. White of S. Court street. The wedding will be in the Autumn, probably at the home of Miss Woodrough's brother in Washington D. C.

Miss Woodrough is a student at the Central Academy of Commercial Arts, Cincinnati. Mr. Hathaway is connected with the Chillicothe branch of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric company.

Taylor-Buchwalter

Immediately following the ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Chillicothe, Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock which united Miss Anne Buchwalter and Mr. James Gordon Taylor of New York City in marriage, a reception for 250 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Buchwalter, the bride's parents, of Applethorpe Farms, near Hallsville.

During the early evening Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left by motor for a visit to Lake Louise, Banff and Jasper Lake. They sail from Victoria, June 21, on the "Empress of Japan" for a three weeks' visit in Honolulu. After September 1, they will reside at 925 Park avenue, New York City.

East Ringgold Ladies' Aid

Sixteen members and visitors attended the June meeting of the Lutheran Ladies' society of East Ringgold, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Otie Bartholomew.

Mrs. Bartholomew was in charge of the session in the absence of the president and vice president. The devotionals were opened with the hymn, "Heaven is my Home", followed by scripture reading and prayer. The devotionals closed with the hymn, "He Leadeth Me". The missionary topic, "The Missionary who Burned his Own Coffin", was read by Mrs. Bertha Scholler. After a short business period, the program opened with a reading, "Then and Now", by Miss Ethyl May, Miss Jeanette Bowers played one piano selection and the program continued with readings, "Jesus' Sermon on the Mount" and "Consider the Lilies" by Miss Laura Stout. A piano solo by Miss May completed the program. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Jackson Bridge Club

Mrs. Orel Rader and Mrs. Festus Walters joined the players, Wednesday, when Mrs. Ross Hamilton entertained the Jackson bridge club at her home. Two tables of auction bridge were in progress during the afternoon with trophies won by Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer and Mrs. Wayne Hoover. A dessert was served at the close of the games. Mrs. Franklin Price will entertain the next meeting of the club.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

A representative group of the American Legion Auxiliary attended the short business session, Wednesday evening, at Memorial Hall.

Mrs. E. S. Thacher was in the chair for the meeting. It was decided to postpone the election of delegates to the state convention until the July meeting. Plans were completed for a picnic at Gold Cliff Chateau for Wednesday July 20. It was decided to issue an invitation to the Legion Auxiliary of New Holland to join with them for this session. The covered dish supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Covered Dish Supper

The Senior Ladies' Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church met at the home of Miss Mattie Gearhart, N. Court street, Wednesday for its annual picnic.

The afternoon was passed in sewing on a comfort. A delightful covered dish supper was served on the lawn at 5:30 o'clock to 25 members. It was served at small tables on the lawn each having an attractive decoration of miniature pots of flowers, the gift of the hostess.

Contests and games were the diversions of the evening hours. The program was in charge of Miss Alice Wilson, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Charles Stoffer. Score prizes in the contests were won by Miss Estella Grimes, Mrs. Alfred Lee, Mrs. Fred Nicholas, Mrs. William Gearhart, Miss Carrie Johnson, Mrs. Oscar King and Mrs. C. F. Abernethy.

200 Attend U.B. Banquet; Fine Program Offered

Two hundred persons attended the annual young people's banquet held in the United Brethren community house Wednesday evening in connection with the Religious Education convention of the Southeast Ohio conference, Church of United Brethren in Christ.

Preparations were made for 150 guests and it was necessary to set up extra tables on the outside to take care of the crowd.

Following the dinner a program was presented under the direction of Rex Smith, Columbus, pastor of the Opportunity farms.

There were six speakers, whose subjects likened the religious youth to an airplane. Favors on the tables were little airplanes to exemplify the subject.

The speakers and their topics were: Miss Ruby Stevenson, of Jackson, who compared the landing gears of a plane to the organized church; William Jeffries of Chillicothe spoke of the propeller as the pulling force of the church; William Kuhen, Jr., of Chillicothe, son of the Rev. William Kuhen, formerly of Circleville, likened the rudder to the Bible as the guiding principle; Willis Sawyer of Philo compared the wings with common sense as a means of maintaining equilibrium; Miss Lena Houdeshell of Newark spoke on the fuel tank, likening its source of power to that of the Holy Spirit, and Solomon Caulker, native of Africa, spoke of the Pilot Christ as the most important of all.

Miss Ava Hamer of Wellston, children's director, sang a solo "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me." Dr. Donald Tippet, pastor of the Bexley M. E. church of Columbus, gave an inspirational talk likening the spirit of youth to the improvements of a modern railroad engine. Dr. E. E. Harris, Dayton, editor of the Watchword, U. B. newspaper, greeted the group. Several young folk from Dayton were recognized.

Music was furnished by a young men's quartet comprised of Milford Ater, Chillicothe; Myron Clark, Newark; Earl Bender, Newark, and Wendell Emerick, Gore. Dr. Harris gave the benediction.

Group singing was conducted under the leadership of Mr. Ater. The convention, which brought more than 200 registered delegates to the city and numerous other visitors, closed Thursday afternoon.

Walnut Sewing Club

Nine members of the Walnut Sewing club gathered at the home of Miss Nellie Bolender of E. Mound street Wednesday afternoon for the June social session. The pleasant hours passed in sewing were concluded with a lunch served by the hostess. Large bouquets of garden flowers were placed in the rooms of the home for the affair.

Mrs. Noah Leist of Columbus will be hostess at the July meeting of the club.

ther, Mrs. Ira Reichelderfer, N. Court street. Other guests at the Reichelderfer home, Wednesday, were Mrs. J. L. Clifton, Sr. and daughters, Lucille and Esther; Mrs. J. L. Clifton, Jr. and son John 3rd, Columbus. Miss Hopkins was a student the last year at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa. Miss Lucille Clifton will leave Monday for New Concord where she will be a member of the faculty of Muskingum college during the Summer quarter.

Dinner Guests
Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Reid and family of near Darbyville entertained at dinner, recently, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Pinkerton and daughter, Dorothea Ann of Findlay; Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Robbins of near Darbyville; Mrs. Plessy Pinkerton of Marietta. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Neff and family of Williamsport visited, during the evening at the Reid home.

Agriculture Experts Say
Labor Saving On Par
With Industry

HORSES, MULES LOSING

Many Improvements Noted In Recent Years

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—Farm production has been mechanized to a degree comparable with industry, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Power machinery has largely replaced horses and mules during the past 20 years in most sections of the country, W. M. Hurst, of the bureau of agriculture engineering, said.

Machinery development makes it possible for individual farmers to grow 100 acres of corn with the same amount of labor that his grandfather used in growing and harvesting five acres in 1838, R. B. Gray, of the same bureau, said.

Labor Saving Shown
Recent investigations, Gray said, show that the modern farmer expends no more time or labor in producing 5,000 bushels of corn than did the farmer 100 years ago in producing 250 bushels.

In 1855, Gray said, the corn farmer used a walking plow, and planted and harvested by hand. He needed 33.6 hours of labor to grow one acre of corn. The amount of labor per acre was cut to 15.1 hours in 1885 and 6.9 in 1930, he said.

"Further improvements in machinery within the last eight years—including four-row planters and cultivators and general purpose tractors—make it possible now to produce an acre of corn with five hours of labor," Gray said.

The development of the general purpose tractor, Hurst said, "probably has affected American agriculture as much as, if not more than, the development of the reaper and steel plow of a century ago."

Tractors More Practical

Only during the past 10 or 12 years, he said, have tractors been developed suitable for planting and cultivating row crops, for plowing, disking and belt work. Use of pneumatic tires has greatly increased the practicability of tractors for both farm work and road hauling.

"Adapting of field machinery to use with tractors," Hurst said, "constitutes the major recent development in what is generally known as farm implements. New machinery permits higher speed and increases effectiveness in turning under cover crops."

Mechanization has progressed further in the cultivation and harvesting of grain crops than in cotton. Labor in cotton fields will be reduced by half when a mechanical cotton picker becomes commercially available, it was said.

TARLTON

The Willing Workers Class of the M. E. Church held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the church basement. Games and contests were enjoyed after which a what not lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiggins of Circleville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Reichelderfer.

Miss Barbara and Louis Defenbaugh are spending a few days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Lewis of Jackson.

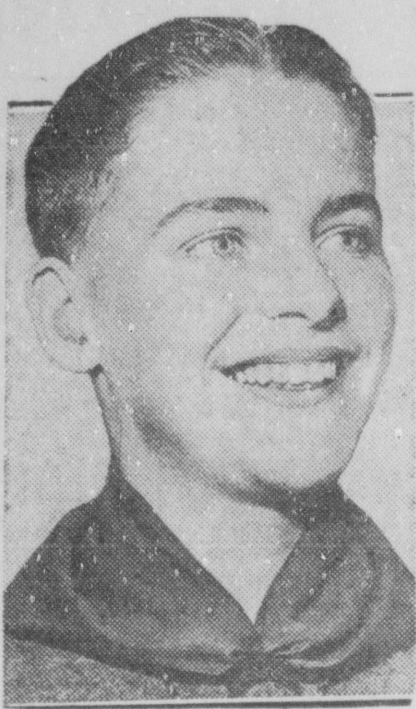

Miss Dorothy Winfough, Miss Dorothy Hedges, Raymond Adkins and Wilbur Adkins enjoyed a picnic at Tar Hollow Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Elsea and Miss Edith Spangler were the Friday dinner guests of Miss Mary Porter of Saltcreek township.

Rare Trees Discovered

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Two University of Miami students have discovered two trees believed by botanists to have been extinct for 100 years. The students, George Waldeck and Roy W. Woodbury, found the Clusia and the Cupania glabra growing in the lower Florida keys.

Prince's Aide

DONALD CONOVER, 15-year-old Boy Scout of Brookline, Pa., was selected by Gov. George H. Earle, of Pennsylvania, to be official aide to Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf during the visit of the Swedish Crown Prince to America. The occasion will be the 300th anniversary of settling the New World by a party of Swedish immigrants.

OLD LAW BANS FLYING OF KITE IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (UP)—The District of Columbia national legislative center, has a law forbidding kite-flying and many another strange statute.

Under the law, you can't tie a horse to a tree, and if you use French or Latin during a trial you have to pay your legal opponent $331.33.

The dusty code books do not explain how that figure was agreed upon. Neither do they explain another amount—$26.67, which, if lost in a game of chance, entitles the loser to sue the winner.

The loser not only may sue for the $26.67 or more but can, if he's reasonably lucky, collect three times the amount lost. Some gamblers think it's a fine law. So do district officials, for the city receives half the sum collected in such suits.

Sometimes the lawmakers apparently ignored old statutes when drawing up new measures. A woman has to be 21 years old before signing a contract. Yet when she is the beneficiary of a will she reaches her "full, mature or lawful age" at 18.

To win title to property by adverse possession, a Washingtonian, according to the law books, has to show tax receipts for 15 years—or sometimes for 20 years, depending on which part of the code he is governed by.

Although the district forbids kite-flying, dueling and certain other personal activities, the law permits concerts on the Capitol grounds by "any band in the service of the United States."

The law provides one exception: the band cannot play while Congress is in session. The music might disturb the legislators.

First Mayor by 1 Vote

LAKEVIEW, Tex. (UP)—A one-vote majority gave C. L. Maser the mayor's office in this newly incorporated community over his opponent, W. F. Guion. The vote was 20 to 19.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU.

BY BOB BURNS

I hear a lot of men complain' about their wives bein' back-seat drivers, but I want to tell you there's many a man that wouldn't 'amount to a continental' if he didn't have one of those wives to tell him which way to turn.

I knew a man who worked for the same firm for fifteen years and never got a raise in salary and he never asked for one, but finally he got married. His wife wasn't a back-seat driver—she sat right up in front where she could grab the wheel.

She kept tellin' him what to tell the boss until finally one night he came home and he says, "Well, I finally told the boss what you told me." She says, "Well, that's swell—I'm proud of you." He says, "Well, thank you, my dear—now hand me the 'want ad' section."

read concerning the Fall meeting which will be held in Kingston.

The next meeting will be in charge of the October committee instead of the July committee.

Mrs. A. M. Forrester is the chairman. The following program was presented: reading on "Peace" depicting the story of the monument "The Christ of the Andes" located on the boundary line between Chili and Argentina in South America and describing the dedication of the "International Peace Garden" to Universal Peace between the United States and Canada; whistling solo by Miss Marie Snyder accompanied by Mrs. N. F. Bond; a paper on "Pottery" by a visitor, Mrs. George Hamman, from the Clarksburg club. Other visitors were Mrs. Francis Jones, Mrs. Rex McGee, Mrs. G. W. Cooper and Miss Edna Campbell, all of the Clarksburg club. Mrs. Kate Stein of Circleville, Mrs. Cora Hood, Mrs. Margaret McKenzie, Mrs. Robert Cryder, Mrs. Minnie McCorkle, Misses Martha Parker and Betty Jo Minshall and brother George Richard. At 5:30 o'clock a covered dish supper was enjoyed served cafeteria style. The hostesses served meringues, ice cream with fresh strawberries, iced tea and hot coffee.

VANDER MEER SCORES SECOND NO-HIT, NO-RUN GAME FOR CINCINNATI

YOUNG PITCHER HALTS DODGERS BEFORE 38,747

Baseball Marks Broken For Second Time In Last Week

NEW YORK, June 16—(UP)—Johnny Vander Meer, cheeked southpaw who last night became the first pitcher in 100 years of baseball history to pitch two consecutive no-hit, no run games, today wore his cloak of immortality with schoolboy modesty.

He went fishing with his father in New Jersey.

While the whole baseball world praised Vander Meer's superlative performance in pitching Cincinnati to a 6-0 triumph over Brooklyn in the first major league night game ever played in the East, Vander Meer ducked away for a day of trout-fishing. If he can fish like he can pitch, it'll be a sad day for the trout. A crowd of 38,737 saw him pitch.

Behind him he left a record never before achieved by any of the pitching masters, Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Walter Johnson or any of the other immortals—two no-hit, no run games in one season, and within three days of each other. Last Saturday he entered baseball's hall of fame with a no-hit, no-run game against the Boston Bees by daylight. Last night he did the same trick again before 38,747 howling fans at Ebbets field, who in the last few innings as he crept nearer and nearer to his hitherto unattained goal were one with him.

Others Step Aside

The 22-year old New Jersey boy left shortly after midnight with his father, mother, sister, sister-in-law and best girl for his home at Midland Park, N. J., blissfully unaware that he has mounted the baseball pedestal as the game's No. 1 pitcher. Youthful Bob Feller, ancient Lefty Grove, big winner Vernon Kennedy, brilliant Bill Lee and reliable Carl Hubbell all stepped aside as Vander Meer moved up to top of the heap.

Last night's victory was his sixth in a row. During those six triumphs he has allowed only three runs and 18 hits, one of the greatest feats of pitching in modern baseball. In addition he leads the National league in strikeouts with 65, seven of which came in last night's game. He walked eight men, only one to reach base. His season's record is seven won, two lost.

As Vander Meer pulled off his sweat-damp red undershirt in the Cincinnati dressing room last night, Paul Derringer, his fellow pitching mate, crystallized the crux of just what Vander Meer had accomplished by saying:

"Well, I guess Vander Meer silenced all the guys who want to talk about how good the old timers were."

Was Not Wanted

Now the greatest pitcher in baseball, Vander Meer three times in his short career was unwanted. Brooklyn first had him in 1933 and farmed him out to Dayton, from where he was shipped to Scranton as undesirable.

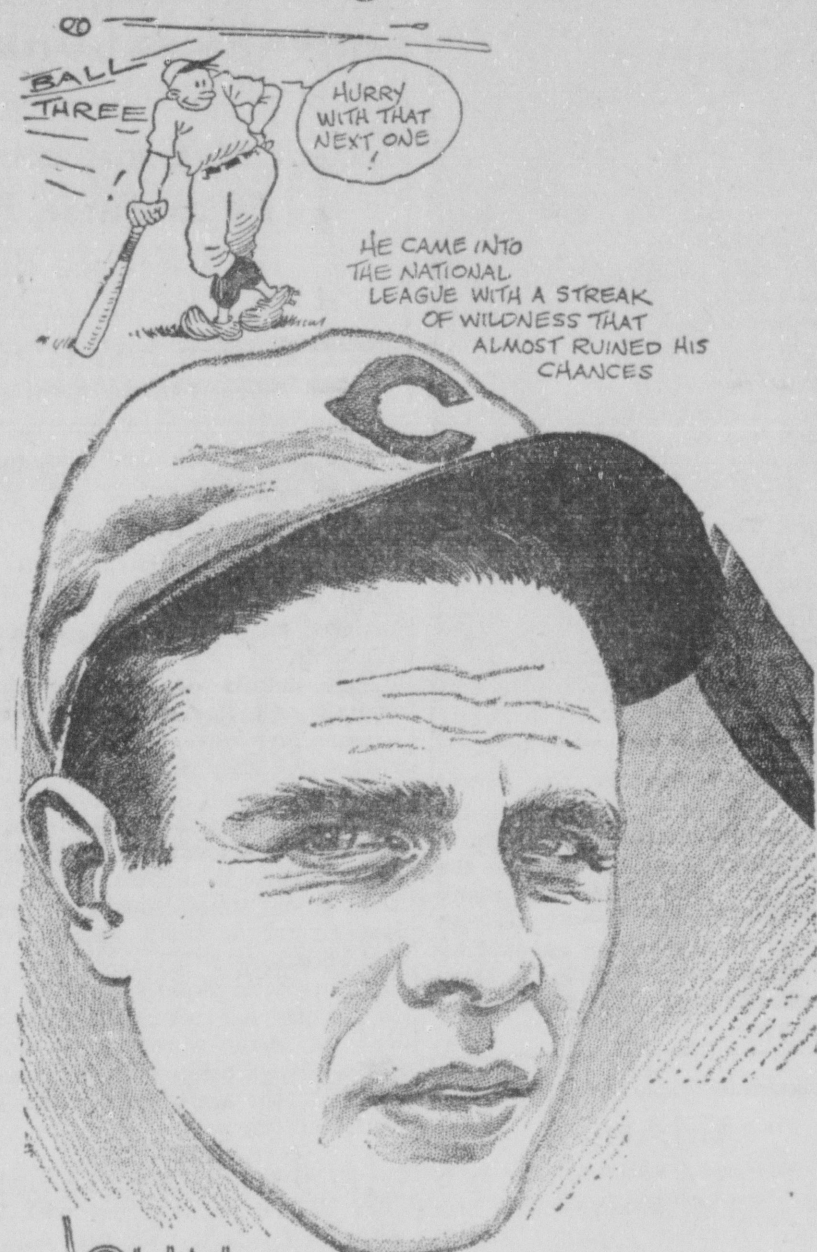

Larry MacPhail, now Brooklyn vice-president but then Cincinnati business manager, saw him pitch a game against Atlanta in 1935 when he "walked everybody in the park except the ushers."

"The Nashville manager didn't want Vander Meer," MacPhail recalled, "but I liked him and obtained his release for Durham. He was a sensation there, striking out 295 and I got him for the Reds for $10,000."

Johnny Gooch, then Durham manager and catcher, helped Vander Meer cure his wildness and rid himself of his fatal habit of blowing up with a man on first base.

Vander Meer was born at Prospect Park, N. J., Nov. 2, 1914.

JOHN VANDER MEER
CINCINNATI PITCHER, LATEST ENTRY INTO BASEBALL'S HALL OF FAME

ON JUNE 11 HE BLANKED THE BOSTON BEES WITHOUT GIVING UP A BASE HIT

He's 6 feet, 1 inch in height and weighs 195 pounds. Both his parents were born in Holland.

The dramatic stage of Vander Meer's performance last night came in the ninth. After retiring Buddy Hassett on a slow roller, he lost control and walked Phelps, Lavagetto and Camilli in succession to fill the bases. After he walked Camilli, Manager McKechnie walked out to the mound to talk to him briefly while the Reds' infielders gathered around. The crowd yelled, "Don't take him out."

He stayed in, as McKechnie had no intention of relieving him, and faced Ernie Koy with the crowd in an uproar. The first pitch to Koy was a called strike. Then he hit a bouncer to Third Base—man Riggs who threw to the plate, forcing Phelps. One out to go and Leo Durocher up.

Ball one. Strike one. called. Strike two, swung. Foul. Ball two. Then Durocher raised a short fly to center which Harry Craft camped under.

Old Contract Gone

Last week Warren Giles, president of the Reds tore up Vander Meer's old contract and gave him a new one. Since then he has pitched two no-hit, no-run games. The Reds pounded out 11 hits off Butcher, Pressnell and Hamlin, the big blow being Frank McCormick's homer with two on off Butcher in the third.

In the other National league games the Pirates beat the Giants, 2-0; the Bees won from the Cubs, 2-0; and the Cardinals outslugged the Phillies, 9-7. Cleveland held the American league lead with a

WHITEHILL PUTS CLEVELAND NINE IN CHASE AGAIN

CLEVELAND, June 16—(UP)—Earl Whitehill, 38-year-old southpaw who has been the most consistent hurler on the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff, today had put a halt to a tailspin that threatened to cost the club its lead in the American league.

Whitehill halted the Tribe's losing streak at five straight games here yesterday when he pitched Cleveland to a 6 to 4 triumph over the Washington Senators. The victory enabled the Indians to retain their narrow one-half game advantage over the New York Yankees who also were victorious.

Whitehill was hammered for 11 hits but managed to tighten up in the clutches to gain his fifth victory of the season.

Kendall Chase, rookie left-hander in the box for Washington, pitched effectively for seven innings and at the end of that stretch held a 4 to 3 lead. However, in the eighth the big bats of the Indians began to boom and Cleveland netted three runs to clinch the victory.

6-4 victory over Washington, the Yankees remained a half game behind by beating the White Sox, 6-4. The Red Sox kept pace with a 7-4 win over the Browns and the Athletics outslugged the Tigers, 7-6.

LONDON GOLFERS WIN IN CONTEST ON HOME LINKS

Pickaway Country Club Men Win Six Matches; Return Planned In July

Pickaway Country Club golfers lost an interesting match at London, Wednesday, by a score of 23½ to 49½. Despite the defeat the local sharpshooters had a big time during the afternoon and evening that followed.

Only six of the Circleville men gained an edge over their opponents, N. E. Reichelderfer, Claude Kraft and John Clifton winning clean sweeps, George Myers getting 2½ points, Casey Marion 2 and Tom Gilliland 2.

The London team comes to Circleville sometime in July to return the match.

MAX BAER HOPEFUL OF MEETING TITLE WINNER

HOLLYWOOD, June 16—(UP)—Max Baer, who is trading punches in movie fight rings at present, was certain today that he would get a chance at the winner of the Schmeling-Louis fight.

Baer and Ancil Hoffman, his manager, said each would post $25,000 with the New York Boxing commission.

"We'll do it especially for Schmeling," Hoffman said. "We don't want him to get away and forget to come back—if he gets past Joe Louis."

"Yeah," Baer added, "we know Joe will stick around, win, lose, or draw."

Hoffman had a telegram from Mike Jacobs, the promoter, urging him and Baer to be in New York City without fail "to protect your interests with the New York State Boxing commission immediately after the Schmeling-Louis fight."

BLUE RIBBON 10 DEFEATS GLITT'S OUTFIT 18 TO 3

Raymond Smith On Hill For Lop-Sided Game; Jolliers, Eshelman Meet

No one is certain what the score was, whether it reached 18-3 or 18-4, but the fact remains that the Blue Ribbon dairy crew, taking advantage of a barrage of base hits and some lurid fielding, gained a one-sided victory over the Glitt's food market in the softball league Wednesday evening.

The Dairy outfit had the game clinched from an early inning and added to its score as the fray progressed.

Raymond "Taxicab" Smith was on the mound for the winners while the Glitt's used Ben Davis and Creighton Anderson.

Eve Merriam was the umpire behind the rubber.

Bronzeville Jolliers, defeated by the Purina Chows in a last inning rally earlier in the week, will be out tonight to smash the Eshelman Feeds out of their undisputed first place position. The Eshelman crew is the only one in the league with an unblemished record.

Friday's contest will be between Cain's food market and Blue Ribbon dairy, another scrap that should be a honey.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Eshelman Feeds	2	0	1.000
Circleville Oils	2	1	.667
Fentons	2	1	.667
Jolliers	1	1	.500
Purina Feeds	2	2	.500
Blue Ribbon	1	1	.500
Cain's Market	1	2	.333
Glitt's Market	0	3	.000

Next week's schedule:

Monday: Bronzeville Jolliers vs. Cain's food market.

Tuesday: Glitt's food market vs. Circleville Oils.

Wednesday: Eshelman Feeds vs. Purina Feeds.

Thursday: Blue Ribbon dairy vs. Fenton Cleaners.

Friday: Bronzeville Jolliers vs. Blue Ribbon dairy, this game being replayed because the dairy used an ineligible man in an earlier game.

"FREE MOTOR OIL" (UP TO THE FULL MARK)

- IF I FORGET TO CHECK IT -

ABOUT the best way to ruin a swell engine is to run shy on oil. To keep this from happening, all of us Shell dealers listed below have a little proposition for you.

Hop into your car and drive to any one of our stations. If we don't look at your oil without your asking, then you put the finger on us. We'll bring your oil level right up to the full mark entirely free.

We'll use our Golden Shell Oil, too, the kind that's made especially for today's stop-and-go driving.

Maybe you never knew that stop and go calls for a certain kind of oil. Well, it does—and here's why: You average ten cold starts a day. If your oil is slow-flowing, one start can cause as much wear as 50 miles of steady running.

Golden Shell changes this. It's fast-flowing. The second you start it coats each engine part with a tough oil film that doesn't break down... even under the heat of steady running. In fact—

There's no finer oil at any price than Golden Shell.

WELSH LIBRARY TO BE HOLED IN

ABERYSWYTH, Wales, June 16 — (UP) — The national treasures of Wales are to have their air raid shelter before the civilian population.

If the wail of sirens should herald the approach of enemy aircraft or naval units, priceless Welsh manuscripts, including material for a Welsh dictionary, will be hurried from the National Library of Wales, situated on a hill high above Aberystwyth into a tunnel hollowed in a hill of rock, within a stone's throw of the library terraces.

The local authority has approved plans for carving out this bombproof and shellproof shelter, which will have a roof composed of 60 feet of solid rock, at a cost of $20,000. Work will start immediately.

It is calculated that the most valuable treasures could be removed from the library to the shelter in about an hour—that is if the persons charged with the task had not taken refuge in their own private air raid shelters.

The library was opened by King George and Queen Elizabeth on July 15, 1937, and constitutes an outstanding landmark, high above Aberystwyth. It contains about 750,000 deeds and documents, as well as thousands of maps, prints and drawings.

The greatest treasures are in the manuscript department and include the most important single group of Welsh documents in existence, totaling more than 500.

Among them are the Black Book of Carmarthen, written about 1180 and probably the oldest Welsh manuscript extant, the Book of Taliesin and the earliest extant Welsh and Latin versions of the ancient code of Welsh laws known as the Laws of Hywel Dda.

More than 620,000 slips, each representing a word, are arranged in alphabetical order on shelves in the scriptorium, in preparation for the publication of a Welsh dictionary.

U. S. FIRST NOW IN NAVAL RACE WITH WORK ON 94 SHIPS BEGUN; BRITAIN SECOND, HAS 85 STARTED

Extent of Construction Is Not Revealed Yet
By Japanese, Italians and Soviet;
France Builds 45 Craft

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—The seven leading world naval powers, engaged in the greatest race for supremacy of the seas in history, have started construction of, or have appropriated funds for, approximately 500 warships, according to official U. S. Navy Department estimates.

The United States and Great Britain have taken undisputed lead in naval building, each having nearly 100 warships under construction and many more authorized as soon as funds become available.

Full details of the Japanese, Italian and Soviet Russian programs have never been divulged. However, Italy is known to be building at least 75 fighting ships, while Japan is believed to have undertaken an equally large program. Russia is reportedly concentrating on submarines and "suicide fleets" of small, speedy torpedo boats.

Germany is rapidly building up to its pre-war strength, with at least 51 of the world's most modern warships being built or appropriated for, and France has 45 craft on the ways.

U. S. Takes Lead
The United States holds a slight edge over all contenders, with 94 ships being built, or for which money is available and will be spent as soon as shipyard facilities are able to take the load. President Roosevelt has asked for five super-dreadnaughts, one 20,000-ton aircraft carrier and two cruisers and for experimentation with a "suicide fleet."

Vessels already under construction in the United States include: four battleships, three aircraft carriers, one heavy cruiser, 11 light cruisers, 57 destroyers and 22 submarines.

At the discretion of the President, this program will be augmented by three battleships, two aircraft carriers, nine cruisers, 23 destroyers and nine submarines.

Following closely behind the United States is Great Britain with 85 warcraft being built and nearly that many more contemplated within the next few years. The mighty British armada, now the most powerful in the world, is being increased by the addition of five battleships, five aircraft carriers, 17 light cruisers, 40 destroyers and 18 submarines.

German Limit Fixed
The strength of the German navy is determined indirectly by the power of the British fleet, since at London-Berlin naval treaty fixes the Reich's sea defenses at 35 percent of the entire naval power of the British Empire.

The Nazi government is rapidly building toward that goal, with the following ships under construction: five battleships, two aircraft carriers, three heavy cruisers, four light cruisers, 12 destroyers and 25 submarines.

German construction methods, in which thousands of tons displacement are eliminated by an electric welding process, will make the new Reich warships at least the equal of any in the world on a ship-for-ship basis.

Meanwhile, Germany's two allies to check the spread of Communism—Japan and Italy—have embarked upon programs which are not known to the rest of the world.

Italian Plans in Doubt
Officials have considerable information regarding Italian construction plans, as only two years have elapsed since the Fascist power bolted the 1936 international naval conference at London and much of the present program already had been announced.

Premier Benito Mussolini has at least 75 warships under construction to augment Italy's already powerful Mediterranean fleet. Vessels building include four battleships, at least 44 destroyers and 27 submarines. It is generally believed Italy has many more submarines than this in the shipyards.

On the other hand, Japan has announced officially that it has only 15 fighting vessels on the ways, but it has been reported to the Navy Department here that the Island Empire has at least 66 other warships under construction. The official Japanese announcement said one aircraft carrier, two cruisers, nine destroyers and three submarines are being built or have been appropriated for.

However, the announcement did not include any ships under the five-year replenishment program which began April 1, 1937. This program is believed to include three capital ships, reported to be 46,000 tons each, five aircraft carriers, 43 destroyers, seven cruisers and eight submarines.

Equal secrecy surrounds the Soviet program, but it is reported that Josef Stalin is quietly proceeding with constructing the greatest undersea force the world has ever known. Russia already has 164 submarines in commission and is believed to be rapidly working on 44 more, with plans for still more in the future.

Russia has three capital ships projected, reported to be 35,000 tons each, and is said to be building one aircraft carrier, seven heavy cruisers, and eight destroyers.

On the other side of the continent, Russia's military ally, France, striving to remain ahead of Italy and Germany, is building three battleships; two aircraft carriers, two cruisers, 22 destroyers and 16 submarines.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

THE NO TRUMP FETISH

SOME PLAYERS have the no trump fetish so badly that they favor it over a rebid of good five-card, six-card and even seven-card major suits. Queer results can come out of deals involving such tactics. Their saddest feature is the worthlessness of a beautiful long suit in declarer's hand, useless because he can't get the lead and run its tricks. He simply has to keep discarding them on tricks taken by the defenders.

A, as he hoped to later capture South's K. He hated to knock out his partner's entry which no doubt was a club and as the declarer had bid hearts, West hit on a diamond lead. That play killed declarer's chances of ever making game. South won in the dummy with the A and cashed the heart A. After running two more diamonds, he decided to lead a spade, in order to enter his own hand. East played low and South went up with the K, which West won with the A. The return of the spade 8 gave his side six tricks in that suit as well as the club A.

CITY RECREATION COMMITTEE TO BE NAMED TO AID IN SUMMER PROJECTS

COUNCIL VOTES CADCY AUTHORITY TO SELECT FIVE

Walden Reichelderfer Chosen To Supervise W. P. A. Playgrounds

Authorization for Mayor W. B. Cady to appoint a city recreation committee to supervise and direct playground activities this Summer under W. P. A. was provided in an ordinance passed Wednesday night by council.

Courtland Baker, Columbus, area supervisor for recreation projects under W. P. A., requested council to pass the legislation. He explained that the commissioners have appropriated funds to provide recreational activities this Summer.

Mr. Baker said he hopes to have the projects under way next week. Efforts will be made to obtain school playgrounds. Walden Reichelderfer has been appointed as the local supervisor. Twelve persons, six men and six women, are being trained for the project.

The recreation board will include two members of the school board and three members-at-large. No ordinance was passed under suspension of rules.

The project sponsored by the commissioners was set up on an eight-month basis but approval by the county board was given for the three Summer months only. Figures on the eight-months basis were $7,546 in federal aid and $625 for the county's share, or a total of $8,171. On the three-month basis the commissioners said their share would be about $150. This amount is for equipment to be purchased through the county relief headquarters.

At the close of last year there were 133 million insurance policies in force in the U. S., with a coverage amounting to more than 110 billion dollars.

TWO ASSEMBLY UNITS TO VOTE AID MEASURES

Conference Committee May Decide How State Will Support Needy

house and Sen. Keith Lawrence, D., Cuyahoga, senate majority leader, said a senate caucus also adopted the policy. A matching provision remained in one senate bill, however.

The house program would raise $21,000,000 by "mortgaging the future" and extending the .65 percent utilities excise, beer, malt, wort and admissions taxes through 1944. It would allocate approximately $7,000,000, however, to counties that do not need it. Counties in immediate need could issue notes in anticipation of tax collections, but questions of legality and chances for marketing the notes have been raised.

The senate plan as approved by a joint caucus, also provides for extension of these taxes but only through 1940 with provision that 1939 receipts only can be anticipated this year and 1940 collections next year. It was estimated to produce about $4,000,000 in state funds for the rest of 1938.

The caucus disapproved a 1.65 percent tax on municipally owned utilities and also an increase from .65 percent to one percent on privately owned public utilities. Efforts will be made in both houses to accomplish these objectives.

Both programs carry provisions for counties to issue bonds against delinquent tax collections to aid in solving their own problems, and the senate agreed to support legislation authorizing local government to issue notes against anticipated 1939 liquor and beer permit fees which ordinarily go for operating expenses.

Office Eliminated

Compromise administration bills were to be presented in both houses, but the senate plan eliminates the proposed office of state relief director and provides that the state auditor shall allocate funds and enforce compliance with state regulations.

Under the house plan funds would be distributed under this formula: 1/3 according to population; 1/3 according to proportional municipal tax duplicates; and 1/3 on county duplicates. The senate formula is: 50 percent on the basis of population and 50 percent according to proportional county duplicates.

Senators in caucus also approved a bill to be presented on the floor permitting subdivisions with balances to transfer funds to subdivisions in need and charged with relief administration. Members admitted it would be of slight practical value.

which parallels the federal Lindbergh statute, a lighter sentence is possible only when recommended directly by a trial jury. In the McCall case, however, no jury was impaneled since he had entered a plea of guilty and Atkinson had no alternative but imposition of the death sentence.

Governor Fred R. Cone may set the date for the execution during the week of June 27.

When he was led from the courthouse back to his solitary cell in the county jail yesterday, McCall cried out a "message" to the world.

"I just want to make the plea that no one else ever lets money tempt him that way."

It was the first time that the stolid youth had indicated his feelings since the night of May 28 when he crept into his friends' home and stole their child.

Haltingly, McCall related the details of the crime while the dead boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cash, sobbed. He told substantially the same story as he gave in his confession to J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

After the mother had identified a small, crumpled pair of pink pajamas as Jimmy's, McCall repeated his plea that he had not intended to kill the boy. He told how he had stuffed handkerchiefs in the boy's mouth to stifle his cries when he picked him up from the crib.

terday. The house promptly overrode the President's protest by a vote 244 to 27. The issue will come up in the senate today. Previous convictions and the imminence of elections at which senators must face their constituents combine to establish long odds against the treasury and in favor of the farmers when the senate vote comes.

Lewis Rebuffed

Last minute generosity to farmers was in contrast to refusal of house leaders to surrender to demands of chairman John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization for a vote on a new Walsh-Healey bill.

A filibuster against flood control legislation collapsed yesterday after bitter senate protests that an amendment put in the bill by Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley, D., Ky., would both violate the rights of states and taxpayers.

The Barkley amendment, finally adopted in the $375,000,000 flood control project, place all costs of such projects on the federal government and makes that provision retroactive until 1928. It thereby establishes and obligation of the treasury to repay large, but so far unspecified, sums to states and sub-divisions which had paid a share of cost in the past 10 years.

In exchange for repayment of all costs, the government gains ownership of dams, reservoirs and electrical power rights, and would be authorized to condemn land for flood control purposes without the consent of the state.

11 CHILDREN AT CLINIC CONDUCTED BY ROTARY

Five crippled children of Circleville and six from Pickaway county had been examined up to noon Thursday in the clinic being conducted at the county health offices by Dr. Judson Wilson, orthopedic surgeon of Columbus.

Dr. Wilson spoke at the Rotary luncheon at noon on work among crippled children. The clinic is sponsored by the Rotary club. Employees of the city and county health departments were guests at the Rotary meeting.

TWO GIVE BOND FOR OPERATION NUMBERS GAME

Two men were arrested by police Thursday for participating in the numbers game.

Arrested were Clyde Weaver, Negro, E. Corwin street, and Steve Thuransky, who officers said is from Lithopolis. Each man posted bonds of $50 to report for hearings before Acting Mayor John C. Goeller at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Weaver was arrested near his home. Thuransky was arrested on S. Pickaway street. The arrests were made by Police Chief William McCrady and Patrolman Fred Fitzpatrick.

Personals

Mrs. E. E. Reger of Columbus is spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Don W. White of S. Court street.

Miss Louise and Neil Sowden of Pittsburgh, Pa., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Mancin of Pleasant street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Clutts and family of Greensboro, N. C. are in Circleville visiting with Mrs. Clutts' mother, Mrs. George Gerhardt of Watt street.

Mrs. James Cheek of Oklahoma City, Okla. is expected to arrive in Circleville, Friday, for a visit with her sister, Mrs. George Littleton, of N. Pickaway street.

Mrs. C. D. Closson, Mrs. Charles Blondell and daughter, Eileen, of N. Pickaway street left Thursday for their Summer home at Lakeside.

Ray Marburger of Ashville was a Wednesday business visitor in Circleville.

Mrs. Roy Woolever of Orient was a Wednesday shopper in Circleville.

NEGRO MUST DIE

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 16—(UP)—The Alabama supreme court today affirmed the death sentence imposed on Clarence Norris in the Scottsboro attack cases and ordered him to die in the electric chair August 19.

FARM YOUTH, 14, LOSES FOOTING, HANGS HIMSELF

MT. VERNON, June 16—(UP)—The body of Sherman Hampshire, 14, Knox county farm boy, was found hanging from a tree on his father's farm today. Coroner C. L. Harmer believed the boy's death was accidental.

Sherman's sister, Mary, 10, found the body. She said her brother previously had pretended he was hanging himself from the tree by a hitching strap. The coroner believed he lost his footing while playing with the strap.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hampshire.

HAYWARD AVENUE SEEKS MORE FIRE PROTECTION

Group of property owners on Hayward avenue filed a petition with city council Wednesday evening asking extension of a water main on the street to the Norfolk & Western right-of-way and the installation of at least one fire hydrant and taps for domestic consumption. The petition contended the property owners are without adequate fire protection.

Council referred the petition to the service committee and the service director and instructed them to confer with the water company concerning the improvement.

Signers of the petition were Clyde E. White, Albert See, Leonard Francis, William C. Truex, Charles E. Graham, Alonzo Gilmore, Emily Ross, Alva Lee, Albert Wilkins, Ed Lemley, Fred P. Griner and Mrs. Minnie Truex.

Franklin P. McCall
Condemned in Death

MIAMI, Fla., June 16—(UP)—Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson today sentenced Franklin Pierce McCall to die in the electric chair for kidnaping five-year-old Jimmy Cash.

The sentence represented one of the most rapid applications of Florida justice since Giuseppe Zangara was sentenced to death for assassinating Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago. The death sentence was pronounced just 19 days after the little blue-eyed boy was kidnaped from his crib and accidentally smothered with handkerchiefs knotted over his face.

It was mandatory on the white-haired jurist to pronounce the death penalty. McCall had pleaded guilty to kidnaping for ransom and Judge Atkinson, who heard the state's evidence and McCall's supporting story, said state law required him to order the 21-year-old youth executed.

Please—Let Us Live Here!

FACING 200 homeowners with a plea for tolerance, a young Chinese couple, native-born citizens of Portland, Ore., have moved into a modest house in Chicago's northwest side for a trial to prove that they are "good neighbors." When told by an alderman, spokesman for a crowd outside, that they were unwanted, the young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Fung, stepped to the porch and Mrs. Fung addressed the assemblage thus: "My husband and I are Christians as yourselves. Both of us are university graduates. Both our fathers were Baptist ministers. We promise to live a quiet life among you. If you find us annoying we will move away." The Fungs, who have two children, are pictured outside their home.

SCHLEICH, AFTER SPEED OF POLICE COMMISSIONER'S CAR CONSIDERED JOB, WITHDRAWS BY COUNCILMEN

Leonard G. Schleich of Monroe township is confined to his bed with a heart ailment and on the advice of his physician has withdrawn from the county commissioner race.

Mr. Schleich had filed his petition as a Democratic candidate, subject to the primary for Aug. 9, for the commissioner job. Others in the race for the Democratic nomination are George Eitel, Circleville township; Earl Hoffman, Washington township; and Wayne Brown, Madison township. C. E. Wright, Republican, Harrison township, seeks reelection.

This is the second time Mr. Schleich has withdrawn from a political race. On a previous occasion he entered the commissioner campaign and was forced to withdraw.

REBEL SOLDIERS CLOSE FRONTIER, TRAP REFUGEES

HENDAYE, June 16—(UP)—Nationalist forces closed every pass into France today along the Pyrenees from the Bay of Biscay to Seo De Urgel isolating a few hundred rear guards of the Loyalist 43rd "lost" division above the snow lines.

The Loyalists, commanded by an American-trained Col. Antonio Beltran, crossed the frontier at Gela pass, near Tarbes. Stragglers caught behind the Nationalist lines must make their way into France across treacherous glaciers. The resistance of the Loyalists, who held out for two months after being cut off from bases in Catalonia, was broken by bombardment of the upper Cinca valley which practically leveled the town of Bielsa.

A Loyalist officer said that a new type of 67 MM. gun had been used. The artillery piece had remarkable accuracy and Bielsa was nothing but ruins as the result of direct hits.

Tax Extension Through 1940 In One Action

COLUMBUS, June 16—(UP)—The first bill on the senate relief program, permitting local governments to issue notes and borrow up to 90 per cent of anticipated proceeds in 1938 and 1939 from beer and liquor permit fees, was passed, 28 to 1, today.

COLUMBUS, June 16—(UP)—House and senate planned to vote today on conflicting relief plans that if passed in the respective branches of the legislature may create a temporary deadlock but also the basis for a final enactment of a compromise program for the rest of 1938.

Leaders admitted that neither program was assured of passage but hoped to put them through with expectation that differences in key bills can be reconciled, perhaps in conference committee. It was conceded that neither program as it stands can be agreed on by both houses.

Observers anticipated that a plan whereby the state would raise between $6,000,000 and $10,000,000 without local matching or local tax enabling legislation might be the final result within the next week or so.

U. S. GUARDSMEN HUNT FOUR LOST IN LAKE REGION

GRAND MARAIS, Mich., June 16—(UP)—Coast guardsmen were searching today for the bodies of two men, believed to have been drowned in Lake Superior after they had jumped from the gasoline tug, "Judith C" which caught fire during a gale yesterday.

Coast guard officials said the fire started when the tug was 30 miles North of Grand Marais. During the excitement the men leaped into the water. They were identified only by their surnames, Lafever and Chambers.

Guardsmen reported that the fire, believed to have started from engine backfire, had been extinguished after a three-hour fight.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., June 16—(UP)—Coast guard boats began a search today for an 18-foot sail boat, reported adrift on Lake Michigan with two unidentified youths aboard.

Abraham Wessell of the Grand Haven station said the boat has been missing since Tuesday when the youths left Sheboygan, Wis., to return to Muskegon.

Boats from Ludington, Manistee and Frankfort, Mich., were ordered to aid in the search.

YOUNG FARMER KILLED IN FALL OFF HAY TRUCK

George M. Chamberlain, 22, Dies Of Broken Neck; Funeral Friday

Verdict of accidental death was returned Thursday by Coroner C. E. Bowers in the case of George M. Chamberlain, 22-year-old farmer of near Mt. Sterling. He was killed in a fall from a truck. Mr. Chamberlain fell from a moving truck while he was hauling hay on the farm of Mrs. Mary Keller. Dr. Bowers said a part of the farm is in Pickaway county and a part in Madison county. Mr. Chamberlain suffered a broken neck.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the residence with burial in the Mt. Sterling cemetery in charge of E. T. Snyder.

Mr. Chamberlain is survived by his father, Walter; his mother, Ann Chamberlain Dawes, and four sisters, Mrs. May Harris, Mrs. Margaret Harder, Mrs. Lucille Liff and Miss Bernice Chamberlain.

TOKYO'S PLANES HELP SOLDIERS CAUGHT IN FLOOD

SHANGHAI, June 16—(UP)—Japanese aviators dropped food and tools from their airplanes today to Japanese army units trapped in the spreading Yellow river floods.

Now the floods affect the country North as well as the Yellow river area. Pouring rains continued all along the river basin. The Japanese were fighting for their lives, all thought of their war against the Chinese forgotten. They charged that Chinese guerrillas, familiar with the country, were breaking dykes at new points as well as harassing isolated Japanese units.

The airplane service was inaugurated today both to feed trapped Japanese units and to drop tools with which they and the Chinese farmers along the river valley could make what was admittedly almost a hopeless effort to repair the dykes.

Hundred of square miles of country were flooded, uncounted thousands of Chinese and Japanese had been drowned or were isolated on occasional high points. The main hope for life among the trapped Japanese lay in the airplanes which dropped food and tools in gunny sacks.

WEALTHY FARM OWNER MISSING SINCE JUNE 8

XENIA, June 16—(UP)—The disappearance of Eliza B. Harness, 75, wealthy farm owner, was investigated today by Sheriff George Henkle. Harness has been missing since June 8.

Harness was seen entering an automobile, the sheriff was told. He was wearing work clothes and was believed to have $400 with him. Relatives here and in other parts of the state have seen nothing of him since.

Sheriff Henkle said Harness is moderately well-to-do, unmarried, and the owner of a large farm in Silvercreek township. He does not farm himself.

PENSIONS VOTED FOR LUTHERAN CHURCH PASTORS

BUCYRUS, June 16—(UP)—A resolution endorsing a pension plan for ministers was adopted today by delegates to the Ohio district convention of the American Lutheran church here.

The plan, presented by Rev. William H. Lehman of Fremont last night, provide that the congregation voluntarily must contribute four percent of a pastor's pension on his retirement. In the event a congregation furnishes a parsonage, the pastor must contribute 15 percent of his salary.

The proposal will be submitted to the 12 other church districts and, if approved, will be presented to the national conference at Sandusky in October.

District officers will be chosen tonight.

NEW SUBSIDIES AIDING FARMERS TO BE ALLOWED

Recovery-Relief And Big On Calendar
Deficiency Measure

BANKHEAD NAMES TRAIN

President Ready To Leave For Wedding

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—Congress stampeded on the adjournment trail today, pausing only long enough to vote new subsidies to farmers before disposing of the major legislation on its calendar.

In a final gesture of defiance to President Roosevelt after abandoning sine die adjournment until today, the house last bowled over his veto a $48,000,000-a-year gift from the treasury to farm debtors. The senate will act today.

Coincidentally, conferees representing the house and senate defied the President of another farm-subsidy issue by agreeing to appropriate $212,000,000 to provide price guarantees to growers of rice, tobacco, cotton, corn and wheat without providing the money for same.

Billion for Defenses

This $260,000,000 award to agriculture made against Mr. Roosevelt's protests is small change, however compared with the $1,000,000,000—approximately—which this session of congress provided on White House recommendations to finance crop control and otherwise aid agriculture. National defense appropriations topped $1,000,000,000 for the session of congress now adjourning.

But recovery and relief appropriations of $4,003,000,000 since Jan. 3 put all other individual grants of funds in the pin money class.

So with a record of approximately $12,000,000,000 of appropriations in five and one-half months this session probably will adjourn today. New Deal leaders hoped to hear the gavel tap by mid-afternoon.

Awaiting final disposition as the house and senate met were:

1. The $3,753,000,000 recovery-relief appropriation.
2. A $293,615,000 deficiency bill including a $5,000,000 appropriation for two battleships in the Roosevelt emergency naval program.

Speaker William B. Bankhead announced that he planned to leave Washington on a 4:45 p. m. train. Other leaders were equally hopeful of quick action. Mr. Roosevelt's valet is ready to pack his bags for the journey to Nahant, Mass., where the Roosevelt family Saturday will witness the wedding of the youngest son, John, to Anne Lindsay Clark, of Boston.

The $48,000,000 windfall to farm debtors must have senate approval before it is harvested. It would cost that sum to extend for one year—July 1, 1939 to July 1, 1940—the reduction previously voted by congress in interest rates charged borrowers from federal banks and federal land bank commissioners. Mr. Roosevelt vetoed the original bill in 1937 and congress promptly sailed it over his veto.

The extension was voted again this session and a veto message was delivered to the house yesterday.

FARMERS PARE DEBTS ON LAND TO 17-YEAR LOW

Mortgages Believed Now To Total Less Than Seven Billions

SALE PRICES WATCHED

Insurance Company Holding Shows Reduction

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—The farm-mortgage debt has reached the lowest figure in 17 years, according to the Department of Agriculture bureau of agricultural economics.

The bureau said that the amount probably has declined considerably from the last available figure of $7,254,821,000 on Jan. 1, 1937, and now may be below $7,000,000,000.

Figures compiled by the bureau show that the farm-mortgage debt declined nearly $2,000,000,000 between the high point in 1930 and 1937. Most of the decline resulted from foreclosures between 1930 and 1935.

Increased income since 1935 has enabled many farmers to reduce their mortgages through cash payments, the bureau said. Some reduction was made also by downward adjustments by public and private lending agencies.

Debts Exceeded Sale Price

The bureau, discussing the marked changes in the capital structure of agriculture since 1929, said that land values were written sharply down as farm income decreased during the depression; that many farms were sold for less than the mortgage debt.

But during the last five years, the bureau said, a large part of this loss has been recovered through rising farm values. And while farm values increased, farm-mortgage debt declined.

"Changes in the amount of farm-mortgage debt during 1935 and 1936 reflect largely two opposite forces: (1) liquidation of debt primarily through distress transfers; (2) increases in debt through greater activity in the volume of land transfers," the bureau said.

The number of foreclosures, or "distress transfers," has declined steadily in the past four years. The bureau estimated there were 18 foreclosures per 1,000 farmers in the year ended March 1, 1937, compared with 20 in 1936, 21 in 1935 and 28 in 1934.

Private Lending Declines

The importance of federal agencies in farm lending has increased steadily since 1930. Life insurance companies, banks, state and private lending agencies have decreased their holdings.

On Jan. 1, 1937, the Federal Land Bank and the Land Bank Commissioners held 40 per cent of all outstanding farm-mortgage debt, compared with 38 per cent a year earlier, 33 per cent in 1935 and 13 per cent in 1930.

Life insurance companies at the start of 1937 held only 13 per cent of all farm mortgage debt, compared with 23 per cent in 1930. Joint-stock land banks held less than 2 per cent of the total mortgage debt on Jan. 1, 1937, as compared with 7 per cent of the much larger total in 1930.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy ring the bell in their new musical comedy film, "Swiss Miss," which opens at the Cliftona Theatre Friday for a two day run.

The comedy pair were never funnier than in their guise of mouse-trap salesmen who believe that because of the large Swiss output of cheese the Alpine regions will be a fertile field for their endeavors. Their demonstrations with devices of Rube Goldberg pattern constitute many minutes of unadulterated hilarity. Also provoking loud giggles is the scene in which they are compelled to work out their board bill, washing dishes, sweeping and scrubbing floors, each resulting in greater disaster and more comic despair to the unwilling workers.

AT THE GRAND

Once upon a time, Hollywood painted its motion picture sets on canvas. Now, film producers blast their sets out of mountain sides with pneumatic guns.

During the making of Universal's "State Police," which comes Saturday to the Grand Theatre, producer Trem Carr and director, John Rawlins had an entire section of new highway cut through mountains near Chatsworth, California, for action scenes of the film in which John King and Constance Moore play the leads.

The action on the highway occupies the screen only a few minutes, but it cost Universal plenty to produce this authentic background.

LOOK AT ME! Each June my kids sit up nights figuring out a Father's Day gift for me that's different. I've gotten a mandarin robe, a Turkish water-pipe and Indian clubs.

What I really want is an Arrow Shirt!

I say Arrow because its collar sits better, its buttons never come off. It's tailored to your shape. And it's Sanforized—guaranteed not to shrink!

Be kind to your Dad—get him an Arrow shirt, or two or three.

PICKAWAY ABLE TO PAY RELIEF FOR 24 MONTHS

State Auditor Discloses 64 Districts Do Not Need Immediate Funds

CUYAHOGA HAS CRISIS

Fairfield's Treasury Shows Big Balance

Pickaway county is financially able to carry on its present relief program for two years without any additional funds, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson declared Thursday when he released a statistical report covering the relief situation in Ohio.

Twenty-four Ohio counties will need relief funds ranging from $4,000 to $5,300,000 for the remainder of 1938. Sixty-four rural counties, of which Pickaway is one, have enough money to finance their needs from a minimum of six months to a maximum of five years.

Of the 24 counties in need the report showed that Cuyahoga would require $5,300,000 for the rest of the year. At the other extreme was Fairfield county, shown to have sufficient funds to meet its needs at the present rate for five years.

Counties with balances, the figures indicating how many months they can carry their relief loads with present resources, included: Allen 12; Ashland 12; Ashtabula 10; Athens 6; Auglaize 16; Belmont 9; Butler 9; Carroll 10; Champaign 17; Clinton 16; Coshocton 15; Crawford 10; Darke 32; Defiance 12; Delaware 10; Erie 5; Fairfield 60; Fayette 5; Fulton 12; Gallia 15; Geauga 9; Greene 11; Guernsey 10; Hancock 40; Hardin 17; Harrison 11; Henry 6; Highlands 18; Hocking 22; Holmes 33; Huron 8; Jackson 9; Jefferson 7; Knox 12; Lake 12; Logan 10; Lorain 6; Madison 8; Medina 14; Meigs 8; Mercer 16; Miami 8; Monroe 16; Morgan 8; Morrow 24; Muskingum 6; Noble 25; Perry 15; Pike 18; Preble 35; Putnam 13; Ross 25; Sandusky 10; Seneca 10; Shelby 15; Union 35; Van Wert 18; Vinton 15; Warren 18; Washington 23; Wayne 36; Williams 15; Wyandot 20.

Of the counties already without resources or not expected to last more than six months Cuyahoga had the greatest need for funds, $5,300,000, according to the report. Of the 24 in need Paulding county was shown to require only $4,000 more for the rest of the year, the minimum in that classification.

HAYES IN "JANE EYRE"

Helen Hayes returns to radio in a play of unusual power on Monday, June 27, when she stars in the Radio Theatre production of "Jane Eyre." With Cecil B. DeMille directing, "Jane Eyre" will be broadcast over the Columbia network at 8 p. m.

For an entire radio season Miss Hayes has not been on the air in a dramatic role, having been occupied with a coast-to-coast tour of her stage success "Victoria Regina."

The play "Jane Eyre," in which she returns to the microphone, is adapted from the famous novel of the same name by Charlotte Bronte and the title role is one of unlimited possibilities for an actress of Helen Hayes' calibre. This play has been seen on the stage only in a brief engagement.

Here's The Railroads' Program

IN the interest of straight-thinking, the American railroads have prepared a concise and clear-cut program for a public transportation policy. We present here the major points:

- Equality of Treatment
The railroads ask, first of all, for equality of treatment and opportunity—equality in all matters of regulation, taxation and subsidy; and a chance to compete on equal terms with other forms of transportation.
- Restrictive and Expensive Laws
The increasing tendency, both in Congress and in State Legislatures, to harass and weaken the railroads by passing laws which increase expenses with no corresponding public benefit should be stopped.
- Reductions in Operating Expense
The immediate situation of the railroad industry is more critical than it was in 1932. Traffic is less, rates are lower, wages, taxes and prices are higher. Costs within the control of the railroads have been cut to the bone and now they have been compelled to announce their intention of making a reduction in wages, which, however, will leave the average rate of pay higher than it was in 1932.
- Revision of Rate-Making Practices
The railroads ask the authority to price their product to meet competition—a privilege exercised by other forms of business. They ask passage of the Pettengill Bill to amend the long-and-short-haul restriction on railroads. No such restriction applies to any other form of transportation. They ask revision by Congress of the present rule of rate-making, which has been construed by the Interstate Commerce Commission as authorizing it to substitute its judgment for that of the railroads in determining the effect of proposed rates on revenue. The power of the Interstate Commerce Commission over such intrastate rates as affect interstate commerce should be enlarged.
- Regulation of Water Transportation
It is suggested that Congress enact the Wheeler-Ramspeck Bill, providing for the regulation of water carriers by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as it now regulates the railroads and public highway carriers.
- Repeal of Land Grant Rates
The railroads today are contributing more than $7,000,000 a year to the Government in reduced rates on Government traffic, in return for land "granted" more than half a century ago. Congress is now considering repeal of the statute requiring these reduced rates.
- Federal Barge Line
The railroads believe that Congress, by appropriate legislation, should discontinue operation of the Federal Barge Line. This was the clear intent of Congress at the time the Barge Line Act was passed.
- Loans to Railroads
Broader authority for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make loans to railroads upon the prospect of future earnings would be an aid to recovery and increased employment.
- Consolidations and Coordinations
Many of the large railroad systems today are the result of consolidations. Coordination of rail services and facilities is in effect to a large extent. Sound business policy requires that these processes be continued by negotiation.
- Tiation rather than by some prescribed national plan.
- Labor Legislation
The Railway Labor Act should be amended to improve present procedure in cases involving contracts between the railroads and their employees, and to give the railroads, as well as employees, the right to seek court review of awards and orders.
- Fair Taxation
The railroads should be exempted from the undistributed profits tax and from additional State taxes of the sort which are a burden on interstate commerce.
- Tolls for Commercial Use of Inland Waterways
Tolls should be charged for commercial use of inland navigable waters, other than harbors and the Great Lakes—based on a fair return to the Government for money spent for improvement and maintenance.
- Grade Crossings and Bridges
The separation of grade crossings is of much greater interest to highway travelers than to the railroads. The improvement of navigable streams for the use of water-borne traffic or for flood control, from which the railroads derive no benefit, often involves heavy expense to them for the rebuilding and maintenance of tracks and bridges. Existing laws should be amended to provide that all such costs should be met by the public.
- Highway and Waterway Operations
Subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the railroads should have the same rights as other citizens to engage in the operation of motor vehicles on the highways and vessels on inland waterways.

When you look at this list, you can summarize the basic difficulty of the railroads in as simple a statement as this: They are controlled and restricted on a fifty-year-old theory that the railroads are a monopoly—yet they are called upon today to compete for business against every other form of transportation. What railroad men want is simply equality and the same freedom of judgment and initiative in running their business enjoyed by every successful business in America.

MOROS DECLARE FOR U. S. RULE IN PHILIPPINES

Mohammedans Fear Being Minority People If Islands Go Free

INDEPENDENCE UNWANTED

Pershing's Translator One Of Bitter Foes

JOLO, Philippine Islands, June 16—(UP)—Nearly half a million Malayan Mohammedans are watching with quite but vital interest while the Philippine independence problem wavers between Washington and Manila.

Score of Moro leaders on Mindanao Island and the Sulu archipelago are stoutly opposed to independence. They talk little, think much and wonder if their American conquerors have forgotten them in the discussion of the question.

They respect the United States, fear Japan and wish to avoid any danger of becoming Far Eastern "minority people" through coming under the full jurisdiction of a Christian Filipino government.

For the present, at least, the 300,000 people of Sulu are not a minority problem. They live at peace with the Christians, pay their taxes and get public works appropriations from Manila. They have their first Moro governor, young Ombra Amilbansa, appointed by President Manuel L. Quezon in recognition of demands that Christian officials be replaced by Moros wherever possible in Sulu.

Mindanao People Stubborn

The Mohammedans of Mindanao are more stubborn. They have refused to join their Sulu cousins in sending young men into the Philippine army. Most of their mountain fortifications have been destroyed by Christian soldiers, but defiance continues.

Sulu opposition to Philippine independence is quiet but none the less strong.

One of the most powerful opponents is Aroles Tulawi, who served as translator for the American forces during John J. Pershing's campaign in Sulu in 1913. He became the first Moro school teacher and helped frame the Philippine constitution in 1933.

"Pershing and Gen. Leonard Wood promised us protection when the Moros surrendered to the Americans," he reasons.

"Now we feel we need that protection more than ever before. We are afraid the Japanese will move in immediately if the Americans move out. But we are certain Japan will never molest us if the American flag remains here.

Tulawi frequently has been a leader of Moro opposition to the proposals of the Christian Filipino leaders. During the framing of the constitution he threatened to run "amok" if polygamy was banned.

The proposal was eliminated in deference to Mohammedan beliefs.

No Revolt Threats Yet

The Moros have made no threat of revolt against Manila if the Philippines are set free. They have watched developments quietly, many of them convinced the independence pleas of Christian Filipino leaders have been for purely political reasons. They believe Paul V. McNutt, U. S. high commissioner, who has proposed a "realistic re-examination" of the question, will result in indefinite postponement of independence.

The United States asked the opinion of the Sultan of Sulu, Mohammad Jinal Abirrin II, strongest religious leader in the archipelago and leader of the Moro forces defeated by Pershing.

COUNCIL CHIEF NOT PERMITTED TO DO HIS WORK

Mr. Goeller is acting mayor during the absence of Mayor William B. Cady who is on a fishing trip in Canada.

10,000 GALLONS OF OIL SPREAD ON FIVE STREETS

Ten thousand gallons of oil were spread on five Circleville streets Wednesday.

The streets were those repaired by the service department during the Spring. Oil was spread on Clinton, Ohio, Corwin, and Pleasant streets and Elm avenue.

BALANCES SHOWN

The city's funds as of June 15, reported in council Wednesday evening, showed the following balances: general $5,364.58, library $9,647.89, auto street repair $3,329.59, disposal plant $51,205.12, gasoline tax $1,749.93, and hospital $601.02, a total of $71,898.13.

taas, daughter of the Sultan, interpreted the reply after the advisers had consulted together gravely in the Moro language.

"We believe the people of the Philippines are like a suckling infant," she translated. "America is our mother and without her we may die."

Council Asks More U. S. Cash for Sewage Plant

City council passed legislation Wednesday night seeking to obtain additional federal aid for the municipal disposal plant.

A resolution was adopted asking P.W.A. approval of an increase in the costs of the treatment works and authorizing the engineer, Floyd G. Browne, of Marion, to complete estimates to be sent to P. W. A.

The city is seeking an additional grant of $16,349.51 from the government. The plant costs are not increased but the share originally paid by the government was based on estimates that were later increased.

P. W. A. allotted the city $61,363 as its share of the project. This allocation of 45 percent of the plant cost was based on the city share of $75,000, or 55 percent. The original bond issue passed by the voters was for that amount. This made a total for the plant of $136,363.

The contract for the plant was awarded for $138,169.15 and various items were eliminated to bring the cost down to that figure.

After the original bond issue, the city issued $15,000 worth of additional bonds and the Container

Tree Planter Looks Ahead

GREENVILLE, Mich. (UP)—Because he wants the youth of 2000 A. D. "to know what a pine forest is like" in timber-stripped Michigan, Fred C. Choate has planted a 50-acre block of pine trees on his 120-acre farm near here.

MEMBER of a well-known Episcopal family, the Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, D. D., of Richmond, Va., is the new bishop coadjutor of Ohio, with headquarters in Cleveland. The Rev. Mr. Tucker's brother is Dr. H. St. George Tucker, bishop of New York. Their father was a bishop.

PLANE SERVICE TO MAYA RUINS TO START SOON

WASHINGTON (UP)—Travelers soon will be able to fly to the northern Guatemalan ruins of Uaxactun, oldest center of Maya civilization—partly because of the civilized taste for chewing gum.

The region has been accessible only to packtrain because of the dense jungle of Sapote trees. These trees, however, indirectly will lead to air service to the heart of the jungle according to the National Geographic Society.

The trees produce chicle, from which American chewing gum is made. To facilitate export of the chicle, natives have cleared an airfield—and invited planes to replace mules as transporters of the basic ingredient of chewing gum. Coming of the airplanes will mark a new chapter in Uaxactun's history. Originally occupied about 68 A. D., the town became a center to which Mayas from outlying agricultural regions flocked for games, religious ceremonies and trade.

Uaxactun (pronounced Washock-tune) still is a center of the jungle life. It not only attracts the native chicle-gatherers and woodcutters but also various archeological expeditions such as that of the Carnegie Institute of Washington.

VAST ART SHOW FOR FAIR LIKELY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16—(UP)—The greatest collection of modern and ancient art ever assembled in America will be exhibited here during the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, Dr. Walter Heil, director of the de Young art museum, said on his return from a six-month tour of Europe's art capitals.

Although his task of obtaining art objects from Europe has been complicated by a major political upset in Austria, Dr. Heil said he was still hopeful of obtaining Velasquez' world famous portrait of the Infanta Margarita, now in a museum at Vienna.

Dr. Heil said that while in Europe, he discussed the possibilities of moving ancient Greek statues from Athens for the first time in history; of exhibiting here Rembrandt's "Prodigal Son," which at one time reportedly was offered to Andrew Mellon for $4,000,000, and of transporting priceless Michael Angelos to San Francisco.

Climate Called Ideal
Damage to valuable art treasures due to climatic changes is one of the greatest deterrents in arranging exhibitions, according to Dr. Heil. Fear of theft is a secondary consideration, he said.

"It is because of that reason," he said, "that I am hopeful of arranging an exhibition unrivaled either in the United States or Europe. The moisture in the air here makes San Francisco's climate the best in the world as far as paintings and statuary are concerned."

Dr. Heil said that art treasures submitted to the exhibition would be guarded carefully while in transit and during their showing here. "Danger of theft is really slight," he said, "because of the virtual impossibility of disposing of the paintings of statuary. However, there is the ever-present danger of vandalism, and for that reason we will have guards as well as such scientific devices as the photo-electric 'eye' at the exhibit."

Visited Many Museums

Dr. Heil visited museums in London, Paris, Leningrad, Berlin, Brussels, Vienna and Paris.

Dr. Heil was particularly hopeful of obtaining many works of art from the Soviet government. "Rembrandt's 'Prodigal Son' is in the museum at Leningrad," he said. "And in addition Leningrad has the world's finest collection of 18th century and modern French art collected by the old Roman nobility."

The art collector said he was now conducting negotiations with Italy for showing of many of its great paintings and sculptures. He declined to say what Italian art works he was seeking for the exhibit, but admitted that the paintings of Michael Angelo were among those sought.

ELEVEN IN A BOAT

THE Summer picnic tragedies have begun. An unusually distressing one is the drowning of three children and a man in the Potomac River near Washington, while parents and friends looked on.

First mistake: There were eleven children and two adults in that boat—too many, as the result showed.

Second mistake: The children were not controlled as all children in boats should be.

The craft was driven by an outboard motor. As it turned, according to the news report, perhaps too quickly, the children stood up and rushed forward. The grown-up running the motor shouted a warning, and the other adult, jumping to herd the children back to their seats, lost his balance and fell overboard. Then the children all rushed to one side and the craft overturned.

The first thing to be done when any children are taken into a small boat—and it's a pretty good rule for adults, too—is to pledge them to sit down and stay sitting down, for the duration of the cruise.

ONE FOR ALL, ALL FOR ONE

THE meaning of "collective security" is made clear by Pierre Cott, former French air minister, speaking at the national conference of reserve officers.

"They say France should defend herself only if attacked. To say that not one French soldier should expose his life for Czechoslovakia means not one English soldier should shed his blood if France were attacked. Collective security is a condition of French security."

Collective security was one of the basic ideas of the League of Nations. It was assumed that all the "good" nations would unite against any "bad" aggressor nation. Foreknowledge of this alliance of righteousness against wrong-doing would prevent aggression. Failing that, collective action would check it quickly.

The thing seemed simple and practical. It has not worked out so. Even the nations that frankly condemn an aggressor are not willing to apply either military force or economic pressure. Although the sanctions against Italy were severe enough to create discomfort and resentment, they were not complete enough to stop the Italian conquest of Ethiopia. In fact, they were applied only partially and half-heartedly.

The world wants peace, but there are many selfish interests at work now which block operation of the collective principles stated in the League Covenant.

'ROUND CANADA . . . Hour by Hour

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Fishing in the North woods becomes a distinct pleasure only after the first week. Six or seven days must pass before someone in the party fails to arouse the camp at daylight and insist on angling company. This day being Sunday and a week after our arrival on the Goulais river, everyone slept until nine o'clock. That's my idea of a vacation.

Breakfast at 9:30, an hour of loafing and then onto the river about noon. In two hours Earl Smith landed two and lost three. Clarence Wolf lost three and Mayor Bill took in three and lost one. The scrivener put three in the boat, using a fly rod. Used a fly rod on wall-eyes for the first time yesterday and experienced an entirely new fishing thrill. The rod, weighing only four ounces, proved sufficient to the occasion. In some three hours time it landed a seven pounder, two five pounders and a four pounder. The ones captured today averaged about 4 pounds. Earl also took his fish today on his flyrod. Mayor Bill continues using a block and tackle and Clarence uses a casting rod, but is leaning more and more toward the lighter tackle.

The live box today contains some thirty fine great fish and Earl right now is cooking a pair for our dinner. If this place were not so far from the home village most of the friends of the fishing party would have received big fish before now. Already we have given away a dozen that we feared would die. With all those fish in the live box this party has eaten fish only once, and those two were bought from the Indians by Joe Burns before the river cleared and we were able to catch our own.

Wonder what has happened to Jim Stout. When we left he said that he might come up on the ninth, and we have been looking for him since that day. We have the fish spotted, too, and that is something more than the other vacationers up here can say. Today we passed five boats on the river and in the channels and there was not a fish in one of them.

No more fishing for us this day, although the sun still rides high. It will be dinner soon and then probably a game of cards and a phonograph concert. Radios just do not work well up here. Bill sits back and discusses another moose seen standing in the water today. The animals, like cows, take to water at certain times of day to escape flies. Another moose was seen two days ago, and a fine big deer, a doe mind you, took a bath practically in front of us yesterday. Came down to the stream, waded in, swam around for a while, returned to the bank, stretched and wandered away into the woods. And these really are woods up here.

Today we are shipping home a big box of fish. Probably they will be spoiled by the time they arrive, but we are shipping them just the same, hoping for the best. I'm taking them into town and across to the American side to an express office. Must stop at the Sault too and buy a pair of trousers, for the two pair I brought with me have developed embarrassing ventilation. Town and the postoffice are thirty miles away. We have received no mail since arrival here, although I ordered the paper sent daily. We go into town only when necessity demands and as a result the diary has been neglected.

ROOSEVELT CONSULTED

WASHINGTON—A very significant conference took place at the White House before Admiral Yarnell, Commander of the Asiatic Fleet, issued his advice to the Japanese that American warships would go where they pleased on the Yangtze River, not painted per Japanese instructions.

The conference was held almost a week before Admiral Yarnell issued his blunt note to the Japanese. At that time, the Navy had received advance, confidential information regarding Japanese plans, so high naval officials went to ask Roosevelt what they should do about it.

"The Japanese are going to raise hell again," one of the admirals told Roosevelt, and proceeded to unfold Japanese plans for closing the Yangtze River and raining more bombs on Canton.

Upshot of this conversation was to the effect that if American warships were kept on the Yangtze there might be another Panay incident, but on the other hand, hundreds of Americans demand protection along the Yangtze, and if Japan wants to hand the United States another Panay incident, it can take the consequences.

So instructions were sent to Admiral Yarnell to use his judgment, but protect American lives if possible.

Admiral Yarnell is a man whose judgment is always against any move favoring retreat—which his colleagues in Washington knew. Hence the wording of the message.

NOTE—Opinion in the State Department, Navy, and White House is unanimous that if Japan's present wanton destruction leads to the conquest of China, she will move shortly into the Dutch East Indies, thence into other East and South Pacific areas.

JUDICIAL CHAIRMAN

Chairman Hatton Sumners of the House Judiciary Committee has a reputation among his colleagues for ducking controversial issues. Every time a troublesome measure comes up the chary Texan stalls as long as possible before taking a positive position.

One of his favorite devices is to be absent from committee meetings. This is most annoying to the other members; so when the resolution for a monopoly investigation came before them and Sumners failed to show up, they adopted this motion:

"That inasmuch as several controversial issues still remain unsettled before the committee, the Chairman should be advised not to return yet."

NO REFUGEES

Berny Baruch, millionaire broker, has given his private advice that it is a mistake to bother with the Jewish refugee problem, and that Roosevelt should devote his time to troubles at home.

Baruch was originally picked as a member of the American delegation to the International Refugee Conference meeting in Switzerland next month, but at the last minute, just as his name was about to be announced, it had to be stricken off.

CHAPTER 54

THE STUFF of life is made not of houses and clothing and such visible things, but of the subtler intangibles which cannot be purchased or had all at once and which develop around us day by day.

Ellen Dale was giving thought to these matters. Buried in her great chair covered by the woolly ram's hide, which she had already come to love, she had books stacked near her. Many were of lighter reading, but some that Bill had selected for her were of classic import. She held now a volume of Emerson, and one trenchant sentence struck her with its power:

"Sooner or later that which is now life shall be poetry, and every fair and manly trait shall add a richer strain to the song."

She didn't quite understand it, but it was sweet even so. "Every fair and manly trait shall add a richer strain." She thought of the character traits in those she had gathered around her. Besides Bill Baran there now was a total of 53 women, children and men. The Dale-Durango ranch was a big one, was coming to have importance in the southwest, she realized. Most of the servants and cowboys had been hired by Bill, but Ellen herself had picked the cook and other help for her home. She did not have too much help, and saw to it that all were kept busy.

Her delight now was with the "fair and manly traits" shown in most of them, however humble and poor. It was, too, a source of pleasure to know that her original intuitive judgment concerning Bill himself had been borne out. He was a man's man, and a woman's; a young western gentleman, not too young and not too perfect. Sometimes she cried a little, in private, because he did not make love to her. She felt that he wanted to; and yet she never could be quite sure when he was serious and when he was teasing. In any event, though, she was developing in him and in some of the others the priceless elements of friendship, the stuff of life. She hoped they were finding at least some similar good in riding.

"Better get your riding duds on, cowgirl," Bill commanded her early Thursday morning. "You're going with me to the Gap. We got to take in a thousand head of steers."

"Okay, Doctor." She had picked up the nickname given him by the hands. Bill himself had never commented on the service he had rendered the Mexican woman. The husband had christened his son for Bill—William.

William Daniel Baron de Anza was the new mite's name—and he had received a $10 gold piece from his godfather plus a layette from Ellen and the Casa Hermosa servant staff.

Doctor Bill told her she'd better stay near Buckshot Brown as they approached the herd of cattle and fall in behind. The cattle were being brought from the old John Slaughter acreage farther south, where they had been assembled at Bill's order from half a dozen sources including both old and New Mexico.

They could be heard long before they could be seen—"BAWR-R-R-R-R" in a low guttural chorus never ending, emanating from a veritable thunderhead of dust on the horizon. Their approach made a magnificent spectacle; somehow it awed Ellen, and it awed her more to realize that they belonged to her. For no good reason as she sat in her saddle there on a hill-slope, she had fleeting memories of the New York 10-cent store, before she had won the contest that launched her on the way to fame. The contrast in situations was profound.

Bill took charge of the herd, directing his cowboys to keep it moving, on through the Gap thence onto the DD range. The Gap was a dip or saddle in a mountain ridge which afforded a short cut in that direction. It was reached by going up a steep incline. When the cattle headed through they began to pour over all at once.

"It's like a cascade of water!" cried Ellen, viewing it from a distance. And so it was. A living, bawling, seething mass of animals flowing over and down.

Every few seconds some great bull would top the rise, pause a moment with his head high, belch a challenge to the world and plunge on. Ellen saw the picture they created, especially in partial silhouette that way. She heard the shrill, happy yip-yip-yipping of the cowboys urging the animals on, with the drumming staccato of hooves for a thematic background. Except on a theater screen she had never seen anything like it. The music of it enthralled her, and the living beauty. Mountains and cliffs themselves were theatrical backdrops, and the actors were supplying their own wild orchestration.

"Watch 'em, watch 'em! Ain't they dandies?" Old Buckshot Brown sensed the grandeur of the spectacle too, but lacked the words and the training to express precisely what he felt.

And yet—right there was the reason why a man will be a rancher; and a woman. The reason why intelligent folk will work and suffer all manner of hardships to eke out a bare living in the open west. The inherent grandeur of ranching does something to a person, gives a spiritual life unlike that to be had in any other profession.

"Look at them spread and open out into a great moving fan!" Ellen murmured, half to herself. She moved her horse up a few yards. The cows were drifting onto the flat range again, well below the old man and girl. "Oh, there's a calf!"

A few baby critters had tagged along inevitably. With a herd like that some mother cows are bound to get in, and a few are bound invariably to calve en route, it seems.

Buckshot explained it to her, along with dozens of other details. The old fellow welcomed the role of tutor, and she profited immeasurably because of it. Through his teachings, and her natural appreciation of beauty in whatever form, Ellen saw not the dirt and sweat and noise of the herd's arrival, but the epic nature of it.

"I honestly believe a cowboy has the most interesting life in the world," she ventured, after a bit. "Yesum, it's a fact he does," agreed old Buckshot. "He don't know it sometimes, but he's a shore-nough king. Didja ever hear me recite that cowboy poem, ma'am? 'Th' feller as made it up is dead and forgot, years ago, I reckon. But it's a right fair poem, ahump—' the old-timer coughed and struck an oratorical pose there in his saddle, which would have been comical if it hadn't been in dead earnest—"listen and I'll say it, ma'am:

"Th' bawl of a steer to a cowboy's ear
Is music of sweetest strain;
And th' yelpin' notes of th' gray coyotes
To him are a glad refrain.

"Fer a kingly crown in a noisy town,
His saddle he wouldn't change;
No life so free as th' life we see
Way out on th' open range.

"Th' rapid beat of his bronco's feet
On th' sod as he speeds along,
Keeps living time to th' ringing rhyme
Of his rollicking cowboy song.

"His eyes are—his eyes—lemme see now—
Oh yeamp—
His eyes are bright and his heart as light
As th' smoke of his cigaret;
There's never a care for his soul to bear,
No trouble to make him fret.

"Th' winds may howl and th' thunder growl
Or th' breezes may softly moan;
But a cowboy's life is a royal life,
His saddle his kingly throne."

Sleeping Habits of Twins Are Studied

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

AS THE READERS of this column know, I always have been very much interested in twins. They present a perfect natural biological experiment. They both start out with the same heredity and at the same moment, and the amount of influence which heredity has on our lives can easily be measured by studying them.

This point of view appears to impress biologists a great deal during the present century and studies of twins are increasing. I find from Germany the report on a research on the sleeping habits of twins.

Is it possible to observe hereditary traits manifested while consciousness is more or less obliterated by sleep? A study of this problem might shed light on certain specially conditioned functions of the mind manifested during consciousness.

There is a camp for twins on the Baltic coast, and here 26 pairs of female twins, ranging from 6 to 14 years were observed. The doctors who made the study distinguished two kinds of sleep—cortical sleep and axial sleep. In cortical sleep the consciousness is completely lost and dreams are absent, but the muscles of the body perform regular movements of turning over and getting into different positions. In axial sleep the muscles are quiet but the mind is only partially unconscious, resulting in moments of wakefulness and semi-wakefulness and in dreams. Every body must have experienced both types. In individuals, however, one type or the other is liable to predominate.

In children sleep-walking, gnashing the teeth and bed-wetting are

MRS. AMOS ZIMMERMAN

Mrs. Amos Zimmerman, housewife of 1715 Greenway Ave., Columbus, Ohio, says: "For years I was so badly constipated that only harsh laxatives would comfort me. This caused lots of trouble. Lost my appetite, became nervous, couldn't sleep soundly, felt dizzy, spots danced before my eyes, and everything I ate turned sour, filled my stomach with gas and a lump seemed to rise in my throat.

"Everybody spoke so highly of Vendol, I got a bottle and it acted like a charm on my bowels, almost from the first dose. After taking Vendol 30 days my troubles are gone and I feel like a different person.

Give this grand compound of Nature's Roots and Herbs with Alkaline a chance to help you. Until you have tried Vendol, you'll never know what comfort and relief really means. Don't delay, most all leading druggists sell it.

Eleanor M. Westenhaver, Russell Skaggs to Wed

Hearts Hidden in Tea Cups Reveal News

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Westenhaver of Circleville township announced the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Mae, to Mr. Russell Skaggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Skaggs of 121 W. Water street, Wednesday evening when they entertained several of their friend at a lawn party.

Beds of roses and shasta daisies edged the lawn which was brilliantly lighted for the affair. Games of various kinds were played during the evening with prizes won by Miss Dorothy Updyke, Gladden Troutman, Galen Mowery, and Lee Cook.

The secret was revealed when the dessert course was served at small tables late in the evening. The bright colored table covers were matched by the other party appointments, the engagement announcement being found on tiny hearts concealed in the nut cups. Miss Westenhaver has chosen Thursday September 15, for the date of her wedding.

The guests included Mrs. Frank Winfough and daughter, Esther, and Mac Shipley of Orient; the Misses Roma Melvin, Annabelle Barch, Marvina Riffel, Julia Dresbach, Mary Katherine Wolf, Mildred Wolf, Dorothy Glick, Dorothy Wolf, Dorothy Updyke, Elise Updyke, Rosemary Metzger, Anna Marie Fellmeth, Irene Skaggs, Marjorie and Eleanor Westenhaver, Stanley Melvin, Galen Mowery, Willard Dudson, Gladden Troutman, Russell Ward, George Skaggs, Russell Skaggs, Mrs. Henry Bartholomew and son, Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stevens and son, Nelson Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Drum and daughter, Mary Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Shasteen, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ankrom, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Skaggs of the Circleville community.

Engagement Announced
The engagement and coming wedding of Miss Anne Woodrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Woodrough of Omaha, Neb., to Mr. John Gilbert Hathaway of Chillicothe is announced by the bride-elect's parents.

Mr. Hathaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hathaway of Chillicothe, is a brother of Mrs. Don W. White of S. Court street.

The wedding will be in the Autumn, probably at the home of Miss Woodrough's brother in Washington D. C.

Miss Woodrough is a student at the Central Academy of Commercial Arts, Cincinnati. Mr. Hathaway is connected with the Chillicothe branch of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric company.

Taylor-Buchwalter
Immediately following the ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Chillicothe, Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock which united Miss Anne Buchwalter and Mr. James Gordon Taylor of New York City in marriage, a reception for 250 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Buchwalter, the bride's parents, of Applethorpe Farms, near Hallsville.

During the early evening Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left by motor for a visit to Lake Louise, Banff and Jasper Lake. They sail from Victoria, June 21, on the "Empress of Japan" for a three weeks' visit in Honolulu. After September 1, they will reside at 925 Park avenue, New York City.

200 Attend U.B. Banquet; Fine Program Offered

Two hundred persons attended the annual young people's banquet held in the United Brethren community house Wednesday evening in connection with the Religious Education convention of the Southeast Ohio conference, Church of United Brethren in Christ.

Preparations were made for 150 guests and it was necessary to set up extra tables on the outside to take care of the crowd.

Following the dinner a program was presented under the direction of Rex Smith, Columbus, pastor of the Opportunity farms.

There were six speakers, whose subjects likened the religious youth to an airplane. Favors on the tables were little airplanes to exemplify the subject.

The speakers and their topics were: Miss Ruby Stevenson, of Jackson, who compared the landings of a plane to the organized church; William Jeffries of Chillicothe spoke of the propeller as the pulling force of the church; William Kuhen, Jr., of Chillicothe, son of the Rev. William Kuhen, formerly of Circleville, likened the rudder to the Bible as the guiding principle; Willis Sawyer of Philo compared the wings with common sense as a means of maintaining equilibrium; Miss Lena Houdeshell of Newark spoke of the fuel tank, likening its source of power to that of the Holy Spirit, and Solomon Caulker, native of Africa, spoke of the Pilot Christ as the most important of all.

Miss Ava Hamer of Wellston, children's director, sang a solo "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me."

Dr. Donald Tippet, pastor of the Bexley M. E. church of Columbus, gave an inspirational talk likening the spirit of youth to the improvements of a modern railroad engine. Dr. E. E. Harris, Dayton, editor of the Watchword, U. B. newspaper, greeted the group. Several young folk from Dayton were recognized.

Music was furnished by a young men's quartet comprised of Milford Ater, Chillicothe; Myron Clark, Newark; Earl Bender, Newark, and Wendell Emerick, Gore. Dr. Harris gave the benediction.

Group singing was conducted under the leadership of Mr. Ater. The convention, which brought more than 200 registered delegates to the city and numerous other visitors, closed Thursday afternoon.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

A representative group of the American Legion Auxiliary attended the short business session, Wednesday evening, at Memorial Hall.

Mrs. E. S. Thacher was in the chair for the meeting. It was decided to postpone the election of delegates to the state convention until the July meeting. Plans were completed for a picnic at Gold Cliff Chateau for Wednesday July 20. It was decided to issue an invitation to the Legion Auxiliary of New Holland to join with them for this session. The covered dish supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Covered Dish Supper

The Senior Ladies' Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church met at the home of Miss Mattie Gearhart, N. Court street, Wednesday for its annual picnic.

The afternoon was passed in sewing on a comfort. A delightful covered dish supper was served on the lawn at 5:30 o'clock to 25 members. It was served at small tables on the lawn each having an attractive decoration of miniature pots of flowers, the gift of the hostess.

Contests and games were the diversions of the evening hours. The program was in charge of Miss Alice Wilson, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Charles Stofor. Score prizes in the contests were won by Miss Estella Grimes, Mrs. Alfred Lee, Mrs. Fred Nicholas, Mrs. William Gearhart, Miss Carrie Johnson, Mrs. Oscar King and Mrs. C. F. Abernethy.

WORK REDUCED 20-FOLD SINCE 1838 ON FARMS

Agriculture Experts Say
Labor Saving On Par
With Industry

HORSES, MULES LOSING

Many Improvements Noted In Recent Years

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—Farm production has been mechanized to a degree comparable with industry, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Power machinery has largely replaced horses and mules during the past 20 years in most sections of the country. W. M. Hurst, of the bureau of agriculture engineering, said.

Machinery development makes it possible for individual farmers to grow 100 acres of corn with the same amount of labor that his grandfather used in growing and harvesting five acres in 1838, R. B. Gray, of the same bureau, said.

Labor Saving Shown

Recent investigations, Gray said, show that the modern farmer expends no more time or labor in producing 5,000 bushels of corn than did the farmer 100 years ago in producing 250 bushels.

In 1855, Gray said, the corn farmer used a walking plow, and planted and harvested by hand. He needed 33.6 hours of labor to grow one acre of corn. The amount of labor per acre was cut to 15.1 hours in 1885 and 6.9 in 1930, he said.

"Further improvements in machinery within the last eight years—including four-row planters and cultivators and general purpose tractors—make it possible now to produce an acre of corn with five hours of labor," Gray said.

The development of the general purpose tractor, Hurst said, "probably has affected American agriculture as much as, if not more than, the development of the reaper and steel plow of a century ago."

Tractors More Practical

Only during the past 10 or 12 years, he said, have tractors been developed suitable for planting and cultivating row crops, for plowing, disking and belt work. Use of pneumatic tires has greatly increased the practicability of tractors for both farm work and road hauling.

"Adapting of field machinery to use with tractors," Hurst said, "constitutes the major recent development in what is generally known as farm implements. New machinery permits higher speed and increases effectiveness in turning under cover crops."

Mechanization has progressed further in the cultivation and harvesting of grain crops than in cotton. Labor in cotton fields will be reduced by half when a mechanical cotton picker becomes commercially available, it was said.

TARLTON

The Willing Workers Class of the M. E. Church held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the church basement. Games and contests were enjoyed after which a what not lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wiggins of Circleville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Reichelderfer.

Miss Barbara and Louis Defenbaugh are spending a few days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Lewis of Jackson.

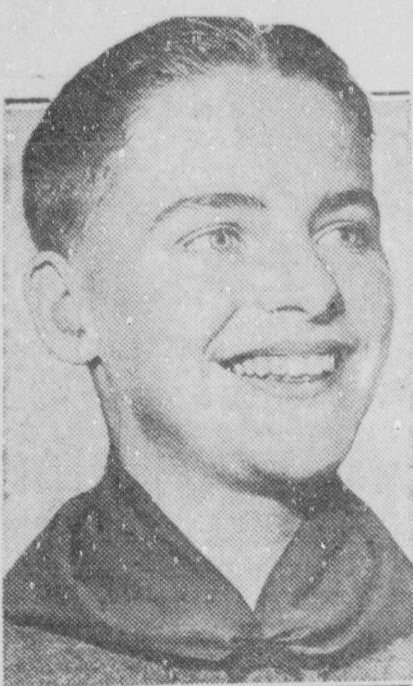

Miss Dorothy Winfough, Miss Dorothy Hedges, Raymond Adkins and Wilbur Adkins enjoyed a picnic at Tar Hollow Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Elisea and Miss Edith Spangler were the Friday dinner guests of Miss Mary Porter of Salt Creek township.

Rare Trees Discovered

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Two University of Miami students have discovered two trees believed by botanists to have been extinct for 100 years. The students, George Waldeck and Roy W. Woodbury, found the Clusia and the Cupania glabra growing in the lower Florida keys.

Prince's Aide

DONALD CONOVER, 15-year-old Boy Scout of Brookline, Pa., was selected by Gov. George H. Earle, of Pennsylvania, to be official aide to Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf during the visit of the Swedish Crown Prince to America. The occasion will be the 300th anniversary of settling the New World by a party of Swedish immigrants.

OLD LAW BANS FLYING OF KITE IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (UP)—The District of Columbia national legislative center, has a law forbidding kite-flying and many other strange statutes.

Under the law, you can't tie a horse to a tree, and if you use French or Latin during a trial you have to pay your legal opponent $331.33.

The dusty code books do not explain how that figure was agreed upon. Neither do they explain another amount—$26.67, which, if lost in a game of chance, entitles the loser to sue the winner.

The loser not only may sue for the $26.67 or more but can, if he's reasonably lucky, collect three times the amount lost. Some gamblers think it's a fine law. So do district officials, for the city receives half the sum collected in such suits.

Sometimes the lawmakers apparently ignored old statutes when drawing up new measures. A woman has to be 21 years old before signing a contract. Yet when she is the beneficiary of a will she reaches her "full, mature or lawful age" at 18.

To win title to property by adverse possession, a Washingtonian, according to the law books, has to show tax receipts for 15 years—or sometimes for 20 years, depending on which part of the code he is governed by.

Although the district forbids kite-flying, dueling and certain other personal activities, the law permits concerts on the Capitol grounds by "any band in the service of the United States."

The law provides one exception: the band cannot play while Congress is in session. The music might disturb the legislators.

First Mayor by 1 Vote

LAKEVIEW, Tex. (UP)—A one-vote majority gave C. L. Massey the mayor's office in this newly incorporated community over his opponent, W. F. Guion. The vote was 20 to 19.

DRY LOT STOCK PRICES LEVEL WITH WEEK AGO

Mrs. Edwin H. Artman reported for the "White" entry. A letter from Mrs. M. H. Fenton, district regional director, was

I hear a lot of men complainin' about their wives bein' back-seat drivers, but I want to tell you there's many a man that wouldn't "amount to a continental" if he didn't have one of those wives to tell him which way to turn.

I knew a man who worked for the same firm for fifteen years and never got a raise in salary and he never asked for one, but finally he got married. His wife wasn't a back-seat driver—she sat right up in front where she could grab the wheel.

She kept tellin' him what to tell the boss until finally one night he came home and he says, "Well, I finally told the boss what you told me." She says, "Well, that's swell—I'm proud of you." He says, "Well, thank you, my dear—now hand me the 'want ad' section."

VANDER MEER SCORES SECOND NO-HIT, NO-RUN GAME FOR CINCINNATI

YOUNG PITCHER HALTS DODGERS BEFORE 38,747

Baseball Marks Broken For Second Time In Last Week

NEW YORK, June 16—(UP)—Johnny Vander Meer, checked southpaw who last night became the first pitcher in 100 years of baseball history to pitch two consecutive no-hit, no run games, today wore his cloak of immortality with schoolboy modesty.

He went fishing with his father in New Jersey. While the whole baseball world praised Vander Meer's superlative performance in pitching Cincinnati to a 6-0 triumph over Brooklyn in the first major league night game ever played in the East, Vander Meer ducked away for a day of trout-fishing. If he can fish like he can pitch, it'll be a sad day for the trout. A crowd of 38,737 saw him pitch.

Behind him he left a record never before achieved by any of the pitching masters. Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Walter Johnson or any of the other immortals—two no-hit, no run games in one season, and within three days of each other. Last Saturday he entered baseball's hall of fame with a no-hit, no-run game against the Boston Bees by daylight. Last night he did the same trick again before 38,747 howling fans at Ebbets field, who in the last few innings as he crept nearer and nearer to his hitherto unattained goal were one with him.

Others Step Aside

The 22-year-old New Jersey boy left shortly after midnight with his father, mother, sister, sister-in-law and best girl for his home at Midland Park, N. J., blissfully unaware that he has mounted the baseball pedestal as the game's No. 1 pitcher. Youthful Bob Feller, ancient Lefty Grove, big winner Vernon Kennedy, brilliant Bill Lee and reliable Carl Hubbell all stepped aside as Vander Meer moved up to top of the heap.

Last night's victory was his sixth in a row. During those six triumphs he has allowed only three runs and 18 hits, one of the greatest feats of pitching in modern baseball. In addition he leads the National league in strikeouts with 65, seven of which came in last night's game. He walked eight men, only ones to reach base. His season's record is seven won, two lost.

As Vander Meer pulled off his sweat-damp red undershirt in the Cincinnati dressing room last night, Paul Derringer, his fellow pitching mate, crystallized the crux of just what Vander Meer had accomplished by saying:

"Well, I guess Vander Meer silenced all the guys who want to talk about how good the old timers were."

Was Not Wanted

Now the greatest pitcher in baseball, Vander Meer three times in his short career was unwanted. Brooklyn first had him in 1933 and farmed him out to Dayton, from where he was shipped to Scranton as undesirable.

Larry MacPhail, now Brooklyn vice-president but then Cincinnati business manager, saw him pitch a game against Atlanta in 1935 when he "walked everybody in the park except the ushers."

"The Nashville manager didn't want Vander Meer," MacPhail recalled, "but I liked him and obtained his release for Durham. He was a sensation there, striking out 295 and I got him for the Reds for $10,000."

Johnny Gooch, then Durham manager and catcher, helped Vander Meer cure his wildness and rid himself of his fatal habit of blowing up with a man on first base.

Vander Meer was born at Prospect Park, N. J., Nov. 2, 1914.

ON JUNE 11 HE BLANKED THE BOSTON BEES WITHOUT GIVING UP A BASE HIT

He's 6 feet, 1 inch in height and weighs 195 pounds. Both his parents were born in Holland.

The dramatic stage of Vander Meer's performance last night came in the ninth. After retiring Buddy Hassett on a slow roller, he lost control and walked Phelps, Lavagetto and Camilli in succession to fill the bases. After he walked Camilli, Manager McKee walked out to the mound to talk to him briefly while the Reds' infielders gathered around. The crowd yelled, "Don't take him out."

He stayed in, as McKee had no intention of relieving him, and faced Ernie Koy with the crowd in an uproar. The first pitch to Koy was a called strike. Then he hit a bouncer to Third Base—man Riggs who threw to the plate, forcing Phelps. One out to go and Leo Durocher up.

Ball one. Strike one. called. Strike two, swung. Foul. Ball two. Then Durocher raised a short fly to center which Harry Craft camped under.

Old Contract Gone

Last week Warren Giles, president of the Reds tore up Vander Meer's old contract and gave him a new one. Since then he has pitched two no-hit, no-run games. The Reds pounded out 11 hits off Butcher, Pressnell and Hamlin, the big blow being Frank McCormick's homer with two on off Butcher in the third.

In the other National league games the Pirates beat the Giants, 2-0; the Bees won from the Cubs, 2-0; and the Cardinals outslugged the Phillies, 9-7. Cleveland held the American league lead with a

WHITEHILL PUTS CLEVELAND NINE IN CHASE AGAIN

CLEVELAND, June 16—(UP)—

Earl Whitehill, 38-year-old southpaw who has been the most consistent hurler on the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff, today had put a halt to a tailspin that threatened to cost the club its lead in the American league.

Whitehill halted the Tribe's losing streak at five straight games here yesterday when he pitched Cleveland to a 6 to 4 triumph over the Washington Senators. The victory enabled the Indians to retain their narrow one-half game advantage over the New York Yankees who also were victorious.

Whitehill was hammered for 11 hits but managed to tighten up in the clutches to gain his fifth victory of the season.

Kendall Chase, rookie left-hander in the box for Washington, pitched effectively for seven innings and at the end of that stretch held a 4 to 3 lead. However, in the eighth the big bats of the Indians began to boom and Cleveland netted three runs to clinch the victory.

6-4 victory over Washington, the Yankees remained a half game behind by beating the White Sox, 6-4. The Red Sox kept pace with a 7-4 win over the Browns and the Athletics outslugged the Tig-

Pickaway Country Club Men Win Six Matches; Return Planned In July

Pickaway Country Club golfers lost an interesting match at London, Wednesday, by a score of 23½ to 49½. Despite the defeat the local sharpshooters had a big time during the afternoon and evening that followed.

Only six of the Circleville men gained an edge over their opponents. N. E. Reichelderfer, Claude Kraft and John Clifton winning clean sweeps, George Myers getting 2½ points, Casey Marion 2 and Tom Gilliland 2.

The London team comes to Circleville sometime in July to return the match.

Score follows:

MAX BAER HOPEFUL OF MEETING TITLE WINNER

HOLLYWOOD, June 16—(UP)—Max Baer, who is trading punches in movie fight rings at present, was certain today that he would get a chance at the winner of the Schmeling-Louis fight.

Baer and Anell Hoffman, his manager, said each would post $25,000 with the New York Boxing commission.

"We'll do it especially for Schmeling," Hoffman said. "We don't want him to get away and forget to come back—if he gets past Joe Louis."

"Yeah," Baer added, "we know Joe will stick around, win, lose, or draw."

Hoffman had a telegram from Mike Jacobs, the promoter, urging him and Baer to be in New York City without fail "to protect your interests with the New York State Boxing commission immediately after the Schmeling-Louis fight."

BLUE RIBBON 10 DEFEATS GLITT'S OUTFIT 18 TO 3

Raymond Smith On Hill For Lop-Sided Game; Jolliers, Eshelman Meet

No one is certain what the score was, whether it reached 18-3 or 18-4, but the fact remains that the Blue Ribbon dairy crew, taking advantage of a barrage of base hits and some lurid fielding, gained a one-sided victory over the Glitt's food market in the softball league Wednesday evening.

The Dairy outfit had the game clinched from an early inning and added to its score as the fray progressed.

Raymond "Taxicab" Smith was on the mound for the winners while the Glitt's used Ben Davis and Creighton Anderson.

Eve Merriman was the umpire behind the rubber.

Bronzeville Jolliers, defeated by the Purina Chows in a last inning rally earlier in the week, will be out tonight to smash the Eshelman Feeds out of their undisputed first place position. The Eshelman crew is the only one in the league with an unblemished record.

Friday's contest will be between Cain's food market and Blue Ribbon dairy, another scrap that should be a honey.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Eshelman Feeds	2	0	1.000
Circleville Oils	2	1	.667
Fentons	2	1	.667
Jolliers	1	1	.500
Purina Feeds	2	2	.500
Blue Ribbon	1	1	.500
Cain's Market	1	2	.333
Glitt's Market	0	3	.000

Next week's schedule:

Monday: Bronzeville Jolliers vs. Cain's food market.

Tuesday: Glitt's food market vs. Circleville Oils.

Wednesday: Eshelman Feeds vs. Purina Feeds.

Thursday: Blue Ribbon dairy vs. Fenton Cleaners.

Friday: Bronzeville Jolliers vs. Blue Ribbon dairy, this game being replayed because the dairy used an ineligible man in an earlier game.

"FREE MOTOR OIL (UP TO THE FULL MARK)"

ABOUT the best way to run a well engine is to run on Shell oil. To keep this from happening, all of us Shell dealers listed below have a little proposition for you.

Hop into your car and drive to any one of our stations. If we don't look at your oil without your asking, then you put the finger on us. We'll bring your oil level right up to the full mark entirely free.

We'll use our Golden Shell Oil, too, the kind that's made especially for today's stop-and-go driving.

Maybe you never knew that stop and go calls for a certain kind of oil. Well, it does—and here's why: You average ten cold starts a day. If your oil is slow-flowing, one start can cause as much wear as 50 miles of steady running.

Golden Shell changes this. It's fast-flowing. The second you start it coats each engine part with a tough oil film that doesn't break down... even under the heat of steady running. In fact—

There's no finer oil at any price than Golden Shell.

WELSH LIBRARY TO BE HOLED IN

ABERYSWYTH, Wales, June 16 (UP)—The national treasures of Wales are to have their air raid shelter before the civilian population.

If the wall of sirens should herald the approach of enemy aircraft or naval units, priceless Welsh manuscripts, including material for a Welsh dictionary, will be hurried from the National Library of Wales, situated on a hill high above Aberystwyth into a tunnel hollowed in a hill of rock, within a stone's throw of the library terraces.

The local authority has approved plans for carving out this bombproof and shellproof shelter, which will have a roof composed of 60 feet of solid rock, at a cost of $20,000. Work will start immediately.

It is calculated that the most valuable treasures could be removed from the library to the shelter in about an hour—that is if the persons charged with the task had not taken refuge in their own private air raid shelters.

The library was opened by King George and Queen Elizabeth on July 15, 1937, and constitutes an outstanding landmark, high above Aberystwyth. It contains about 750,000 deeds and documents, as well as thousands of maps, prints and drawings.

The greatest treasures are in the manuscript department and include the most important single group of Welsh documents in existence, totaling more than 500.

Among them are the Black Book of Carmarthen, written about 1180 and probably the oldest Welsh manuscript extant, the Book of Taliesin and the earliest extant Welsh and Latin versions of the ancient code of Welsh laws known as the Laws of Hywel Dda.

More than 620,000 slips, each representing a word, are arranged in alphabetical order on shelves in the scriptorium, in preparation for the publication of a Welsh dictionary.

U. S. FIRST NOW IN NAVAL RACE WITH WORK ON 94 SHIPS BEGUN; BRITAIN SECOND, HAS 85 STARTED

Extent of Construction Is Not Revealed Yet By Japanese, Italians and Soviet; France Builds 45 Craft

WASHINGTON, June 16—(UP)—The seven leading world naval powers, engaged in the greatest race for supremacy of the seas in history, have started construction of, or have appropriated funds for, approximately 500 warships, according to official U. S. Navy Department estimates.

The United States and Great Britain have taken undisputed lead in naval building, each having nearly 100 warships under construction and many more authorized as soon as funds become available.

Full details of the Japanese, Italian and Soviet Russian programs have never been divulged. However, Italy is known to be building at least 75 fighting ships, while Japan is believed to have undertaken an equally large program. Russia is reportedly concentrating on submarines and "suicide fleets" of small, speedy torpedo boats.

Germany is rapidly building up to its pre-war strength, with at least 51 of the world's most modern warships being built or appropriated for, and France has 45 craft on the ways.

The United States holds a slight edge over all contenders, with 94 ships being built, or for which money is available and will be spent as soon as shipyard facilities are able to take the load. President Roosevelt has asked for five super-dreadnaughts, one 20,000-ton aircraft carrier and two cruisers and for experimentation with a "suicide fleet."

Vessels already under construction in the United States include: four battleships, three aircraft carriers, one heavy cruiser, 11 light cruisers, 57 destroyers and 22 submarines.

At the discretion of the President, this program will be augmented by three battleships, two aircraft carriers, nine cruisers, 23 destroyers and nine submarines.

Following closely behind the United States is Great Britain with 85 warcraft being built and nearly that many more contemplated within the next few years. The mighty British armada, now the most powerful in the world, is being increased by the addition of five battleships, five aircraft carriers, 17 light cruisers, 40 destroyers and 18 submarines.

German construction methods, in which thousands of tons displacement are eliminated by an electric welding process, will make the new Reich warships at least the equal of any in the world on a ship-for-ship basis.

Meanwhile, Germany's two allies to check the spread of Communism—Japan and Italy—have embarked upon programs which are not known to the rest of the world.

Italian Plans in Doubt Officials have considerable information regarding Italian construction plans, as only two years have elapsed since the Fascist power bolted the 1936 international naval conference at London and much of the present program already had been announced.

Premier Benito Mussolini has at least 75 warships under construction to augment Italy's already powerful Mediterranean fleet. Vessels building include four battleships, at least 44 destroyers and 27 submarines. It is generally believed Italy has many more submarines than this in the shipyards.

On the other hand, Japan has announced officially that it has only 15 fighting vessels on the ways, but it has been reported to the Navy Department here that the Island Empire has at least 66 other warships under construction. The official Japanese announcement said one aircraft carrier, two cruisers, nine destroyers and three submarines are being built or have been appropriated for.

However, the announcement did not include any ships under the five-year replenishment program which began April 1, 1937. This program is believed to include three capital ships, reported to be 46,000 tons each, five aircraft carriers, 43 destroyers, seven cruisers and eight submarines.

Equal secrecy surrounds the Soviet program, but it is reported that Josef Stalin is quietly proceeding with constructing the greatest undersea force the world has ever known. Russia already has 164 submarines in commission and is believed to be rapidly working on 44 more, with plans for still more in the future.

Russia has three capital ships projected, reported to be 35,000 tons each, and is said to be building one aircraft carrier, seven heavy cruisers, and eight destroyers.

On the other side of the continent, Russia's military ally, France, striving to remain ahead of Italy and Germany, is building three battleships; two aircraft carriers, two cruisers, 22 destroyers and 16 submarines.

CITY RECREATION COMMITTEE TO BE NAMED TO AID IN SUMMER PROJECTS

COUNCIL VOTES CADDY AUTHORITY TO SELECT FIVE

Walden Reichelderfer Chosen To Supervise W. P. A. Playgrounds

Authorization for Mayor W. B. Cady to appoint a city recreation committee to supervise and direct playground activities this summer under W. P. A. was provided in an ordinance passed Wednesday night by council.

Courtland Baker, Columbus, area supervisor for recreation projects under W. P. A., requested council to pass the legislation. He explained that the commissioners have appropriated funds to provide recreational activities this summer.

Mr. Baker said he hopes to have the projects under way next week. Efforts will be made to obtain school playgrounds. Walden Reichelderfer has been appointed as the local supervisor. Twelve persons, six men and six women, are being trained for the project.

The recreation board will include two members of the school board and three members-at-large. No ordinance was passed under suspension of rules.

The project sponsored by the commissioners was set up on an eight-month basis but approval by the county board was given for the three summer months only. Figures on the eight-month basis were $7,546 in federal aid and $625 for the county's share, or a total of $8,171. On the three-month basis the commissioners said their share would be about $150. This amount is for equipment to be purchased through the county relief headquarters.

At the close of last year there were 133 million insurance policies in force in the U. S., with a coverage amounting to more than 110 billion dollars.

TWO ASSEMBLY UNITS TO VOTE AID MEASURES

Conference Committee May Decide How State Will Support Needy

The house program would raise $21,000,000 by "mortgaging the future" and extending the .65 percent utilities excise, beer, malt, wort and admissions taxes through 1944. It would allocate approximately $7,000,000, however, to counties that do not need it. Counties in immediate need could issue notes in anticipation of tax collections, but questions of legality and chances for marketing the notes have been raised.

The senate plan as approved by a joint caucus, also provides for extension of these taxes but only through 1940 with provision that 1939 receipts only can be anticipated this year and 1940 collections next year. It was estimated to produce about $4,000,000 in state funds for the rest of 1938.

The caucus disapproved a 1.65 percent tax on municipally owned utilities and also an increase from .65 percent to one percent on privately owned public utilities. Efforts will be made in both houses to accomplish these objectives.

Both programs carry provisions for counties to issue bonds against delinquent tax collections to aid in solving their own problems, and the senate agreed to support legislation authorizing local governments to issue notes against anticipated 1939 liquor and beer permit fees which ordinarily go for operating expenses.

Office Eliminated
Compromise administration bills were to be presented in both houses, but the senate plan eliminates the proposed office of state relief director and provides that the state auditor shall allocate funds and enforce compliance with state regulations.

Under the house plan funds would be distributed under this formula: 1/3 according to population; 1/3 according to proportional municipal tax duplicates; and 1/3 on county duplicates. The senate formula is: 50 percent on the basis of population and 50 percent according to proportional county duplicates.

Senators in caucus also approved a bill to be presented on the floor permitting subdivisions with balances to transfer funds to subdivisions in need and charged with relief administration. Members admitted it would be of slight practical value.

The largest historical compilation ever made was the "War of the United States Rebellion", comprising 120 large volumes.

which parallels the federal Lindbergh statute, a lighter sentence is possible only when recommended directly by a trial jury. In the McCall case, however, no jury was impaneled since he had entered a plea of guilty and Atkinson had no alternative but imposition of the death sentence.

Governor Fred R. Cone may set the date for the execution during the week of June 27.

When he was led from the courthouse back to his solitary cell in the county jail yesterday, McCall cried out a "message" to the world.

"I just want to make the plea that no one else ever lets money tempt him that way."

It was the first time that the stolid youth had indicated his feelings since the night of May 28 when he crept into his friends' home and stole their child.

Haltingly, McCall related the details of the crime while the dead boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cash, sobbed. He told substantially the same story as he gave in his confession to J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

After the mother had identified a small, crumpled pair of pink pajamas as Jimmy's, McCall repeated his plea that he had not intended to kill the boy. He told how he had stuffed handkerchiefs in the boy's mouth to stifle his cries when he picked him up from the crib.

terday. The house promptly overrode the President's protest by a vote 244 to 27. The issue will come up in the senate today. Previous convictions and the imminence of elections at which senators must face their constituents combine to establish long odds against the treasury and in favor of the farmers when the senate vote comes.

Lewis Rebuffed
Last minute generosity to farmers was in contrast to refusal of house leaders to surrender to demands of chairman John L. Lewis of the Committee for industrial organization for a vote on a new Walsh-Healey bill.

A filibuster against flood control legislation collapsed yesterday after bitter senate protests that an amendment put in the bill by Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley, D., Ky., would both violate the rights of states and taxpayers.

The Barkley amendment, finally adopted in the $375,000,000 flood control project, place all costs of such projects on the federal government and makes that provision retroactive until 1928. It thereby establishes and obligation of the treasury to repay large, but so far unspecified, sums to states and sub-divisions which had paid a share of cost in the past 10 years.

In exchange for repayment of all costs, the government gains ownership of dams, reservoirs and electrical power rights, and would be authorized to condemn land for flood control purposes without the consent of the state.

11 CHILDREN AT CLINIC CONDUCTED BY ROTARY

Five crippled children of Circleville and six from Pickaway county had been examined up to noon Thursday in the clinic being conducted at the county health offices by Dr. Judson Wilson, orthopedic surgeon of Columbus.

Dr. Wilson spoke at the Rotary luncheon at noon on work among crippled children. The clinic is sponsored by the Rotary club. Employees of the city and county health departments were guests at the Rotary meeting.

TWO GIVE BOND FOR OPERATION NUMBERS GAME

Two men were arrested by police Thursday for participating in the numbers game.

Arrested were Clyde Weaver, Negro, E. Corwin street, and Steve Thuransky, who officers said is from Lithopolis. Each man posted bonds of $50 to report for hearings before Acting Mayor John C. Goeller at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Weaver was arrested near his home, Thuransky was arrested on S. Pickaway street. The arrests were made by Police Chief William McCrady and Patrolman Fred Fitzpatrick.

MT. VERNON, June 16—(UP)—The body of Sherman Hampshire, 14, Knox county farm boy, was found hanging from a tree on his father's farm today. Coroner C. L. Harmer believed the boy's death was accidental.

Sherman's sister, Mary, 10, found the body. She said her brother previously had pretended he was hanging himself from the tree by a hitching strap. The coroner believed he lost his footing while playing with the strap.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hampshire.

HAYWARD AVENUE SEEKS MORE FIRE PROTECTION

Group of property owners on Hayward avenue filed a petition with city council Wednesday evening asking extension of a walk main on the street to the Norfolk & Western right-of-way and the installation of at least one fire hydrant and taps for domestic consumption. The petition contended the property owners are without adequate fire protection. Council referred the petition to the service committee and the service director and instructed them to confer with the water company concerning the improvement.

Signers of the petition were Clyde E. White, Albert See, Leonard Francis, William C. Truex, Charles E. Graham, Alonzo Gilmore, Emily Ross, Alva Lee, Albert Wilkins, Ed Lemley, Fred P. Griner and Mrs. Minnie Truex.
